GOP Planning 'Blitz' TV-Radio Campaign, Democrats Report

Say 12-State 'Production' To Cost $2,000,000

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 1 (AP)—George Ball, national executive director of the Volunteers for Stevenson, said today the Republicans are planning a two million dollar "political soap suds" campaign on television and radio to elect Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

And Ball said the campaign will be based on a document, "prepared for the Republican high command," stating that Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, can count on only 30 "sure" electoral votes. That is 236 short of the 266 needed to win in November.

The document Ball made public also states:

"According to the best current data available, the Democrats lead the Republicans in potential electoral strength by 180. If they take New York, they have an excellent chance to get the necessary 267 (sic) votes to cinch the election."

Ball spoke at a luncheon rally of Volunteers for Stevenson workers from 37 states. The volunteer organization's efforts are being directed mainly toward winning independent voters to the support of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate.

Ball told his audience the Republicans are planning a "blitz" TV-radio campaign during the three weeks before the election. It will be concentrated, he added, in 49 key counties in 12 states and will cost two million dollars.

Mrs. Keyserling Reported Subject To Security Check

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Mrs. Leon Keyserling, wife of President Truman's top economic adviser, is on extended leave from her Commerce Department job, but officials refused comment today on published reports she is undergoing a checkup by the loyalty security board.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer sent out word through an aide that he had no comment. The aide told a reporter that the department can not talk about security cases until the review board has made its decision.

Mrs. Keyserling's immediate superior, Loring Macy, said she is on leave but wouldn't say when she left, for what reason or for how long. Macy is head of the Office of International Trade, in which Mrs. Keyserling draws $10,800 a year as head of its division on international economic analysis.

15 U. S. Delegates To Red "Peace" Meeting Probed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said today the State Department is investigating some 15 Americans attending the Communist-sponsored Asian "peace" conference at Peiping, which he termed an "obvious propaganda operation."

Any who may have obtained passports by fraud or misused these documents is subject, he noted, to stiff fines and prison terms.

The conference, opening tomorrow, is expected to make the United States a target of propaganda attacks. Acheson told his news conference that it would deceive nobody. He said that Red China, while serving as host to the "peace" conference, is defying the United Nations, waging war in Korea, and has joined Soviet Russia in a hate campaign against Americans.

Since last May 1, all passports authorizing travel abroad have been stamped "not valid for travel in China." State Department records indicate that several of the 15 American delegates thus far identified stated in asking passports that they planned only tourist travel to Western Europe or Japan. Statutes carry penalties of up to $2,000 in fines and five years in prison for persons making false statements on applications, or misusing passports.

Acheson refrained from any specific threat of prosecution. Several Americans turned up at a similar Communist conference at Moscow early this year and thus far have not been prosecuted.

Taft Believes Truman Criticism Aiding Ike

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft said today he thinks President Truman's current campaign for Adlai Stevenson should help Gen. Eisenhower.

Taft told a news conference that "name-calling" by Truman creates "resentment among the people."

"I believe there will be a reaction against the wild talk of the President and it will be to the general's advantage," he said.

The Ohio senator said he was talking about the way the President has been criticizing Eisenhower and the Republicans.

Allegany County, Md., Called "Critical Area"

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—A young advertising executive said today the Republicans plan a two million dollar radio and TV campaign—the most concentrated in history—to swing 12 key states and win the election for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The executive, Michael Levin, 31, told a news conference the campaign was based on a study he completed last Aug. 18.

He added that the campaign was scheduled to begin Oct. 20 in 62 counties in the 12 states.

Levin said the campaign was being sponsored by the Citizens for Eisenhower Committees, that Eisenhower had approved it and already has made 40 of the TV programs for distribution to local stations.

In Washington, Robert Humphreys, publicity director of the Republican National Committee said:

"I have never seen such a plan. To the best of my knowledge nobody in Republican Committee headquarters has seen such a plan. Let Mr. Michael Levin prove his story."

Levin said the 12 states are Connecticut, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and California.

Levin said his plan listed Baltimore City and Allegany and Prince George's Counties as critical areas in Maryland.

Reds Strike Hard In Central Korea

SEOUL, Thursday, Oct. 2 (AP) — Chinese Communist troops struck hard on the Central Korean front Wednesday, but took it easy in the west and flew pennants in front-line "independence day" celebrations.

The Communists fought to the summit of a disputed hill on the central front west of the Pukham River, but were thrown back down the slope in desperate fighting with fists and bayonets.

East of the Pukham, Republic of Korea Third Division troops tried to seize a hill position they lost to the enemy Monday, but broke off the action early Wednesday with the Communists still on the summit.

The Fifth Air Force reported, meanwhile, that it lost four Sabres and three Thunderjets in September in the aerial dogfights that saw Allied planes knock down a record 62 Communist MIGs. Ground fire got five Allied planes and 18 failed to return due to "other causes."

Ike Exasperated As Train Leaves Before Talks Over

ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL, Oct. 1 (AP) — You would have thought a Democrat in disguise was aboard this special train today fouling things up for GOP Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

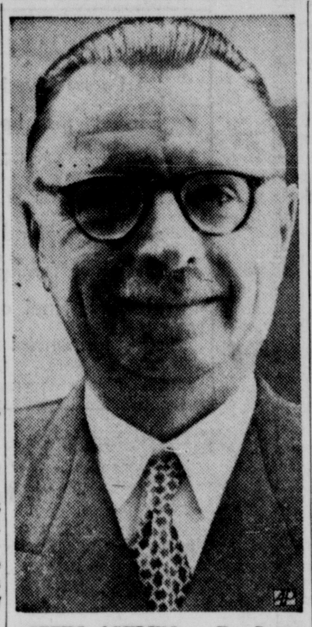

First the loud speaking system failed.

Then the engineer up front and occupants of the rear platform were having signal trouble. At two Michigan stops — Saginaw and Lapeer — the train began pulling away from the station before Eisenhower had hardly begun his speeches to large crowds.

The loud speaker went out at Saginal. The general still was talking as the train drew away from the disappointed crowd.

At Lapeer also, the train started before the general could get more than a few words out.

He explained in exasperation, "We're supposed to have three minutes, but this train has been acting up all day—I don't know what is going on here."

Truman Points To Prosperity, Hits GOP "Lies"

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 1 (AP) — President Truman said tonight that in spite of "stale Republican lies" about high prices and taxes the American people are better off than ever before.

And he said the nation will risk losing its "hard-won system of prosperity and security" if it puts Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Republicans who "can't think beyond their own pocketbooks" in power at next month's election.

"I am sorry to see that abject surrender of their presidential candidate to the reactionary, vindictive wing of the old guard," Truman said.

Slips At "Snollygosters"

Truman lashed out at Eisenhower and what he called the Republican "snollygosters" in an address prepared for delivery at Spokane after a day of whistle-stopping that began with the dedication of the vast Hungry Horse Dam in Montana.

At Hungry Horse he charged that Eisenhower "has adopted the line of the private power lobby" and predicated no more government power-irrigation dams will be built if the Republicans get into office.

Truman kept up the running fire against Eisenhower in a series of rear platform talks before reaching Spokane. He told a crowd of 2,000 at Eureka, Mont:

"If you like Ike as much as I like Ike, you'll send him back to the Army."

"Sheer Poppycock"

Then in the Spokane speech Truman renewed the "snollygoster" charge he first made on a previous campaign swing, last Labor Day, for Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson. "Snollygoster," it was explained at that time, means a person who talks humbug for political gain.

Truman said the "snollygosters" are saying government deficits are too big, national bankruptcy is imminent, peace in the cold war would bring a new depression.

"Sheer poppycock," the President declared.

Asserting his administration has produced a budget surplus of nearly four billion dollars, and has reduced the public debt, he said:

"I am afraid that future historians will have to say that Harry Truman was just one of those old-fashioned fellows who believed in balancing the budget."

Tax Lien Filed Against W. Va. Demo Candidate

A lien for $1,487.88 was filed in District Court against Robert H. Mollohan, chief clerk of the Senate District Committee and Democratic candidate for Congress from the First West Virginia District.

Details of the alleged underpayment were not included in the formal lien as filed with the court.

Operators Ask WSB To Okay Mine Pay Hike

Northern Owners Act To Avert Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Harry Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, today asked the Wage Stabilization Board to approve the pay contract his Northern operators have signed with John L. Lewis.

The agreement provides a $1.90 a day increase for the United Mine Workers, who now have a basic minimum daily wage of $16.35. The agreement also commits the producers to increase from 30 to 40 cents a ton their contribution to the union's welfare and retirement fund.

WSB Has Three Courses

The wage board, headed by Archibald Cox, can take one of three courses: Approve the increase, which provides a higher raise than that allowed by cost-of-living wage regulations; reduce it; or reject it. If either of the latter two courses is followed by the board, Lewis is considered certain to take his men out of the mines on strike.

Southern soft coal producers, most of whom agreed to similar one-year contract terms with Lewis yesterday, have not yet filed their petition for approval of the new contract. Moses made his agreement with Lewis on Sept. 20.

Walkout Closes W. Va. Mines

Oct. 15 paychecks would be the first for Northern coal miners to represent the higher wage. Moses has cautioned members of his association, however, not automatically to raise pay checks on that date unless the wage board has given its full approval.

The question of WSB approval apparently lay behind an unexpected walkout which closed all but one of the major mines today in Monongalia County, W. Va.

Charles R. Nailler, president of Christopher Coal Co., guessed the stoppage was due to "unfounded apprehension" among the 4,000 non-workers about what the board would do. Local UMW leaders could not be reached for comment.

Jap Voters Back Pro-U. S. Policies

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 2 (AP)—Japan's voters stamped enthusiastic approval on the pro-U. S. policies of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida Wednesday while handing a cold rebuke to the Communists.

Yoshida's Liberal Party rolled far out in front in the first balloting for the 466 seats of the lower house of the Diet since Japan regained its independence last April.

A record total of 35,000,000 Japanese voted yesterday, more than 76 per cent of those eligible. With nearly half the contests decided, the Communists had failed to win a single seat, although they captured 35 in the last election. The Japanese were turning on them for their vicious anti-U. S. riots on May Day.

Columbia's Student Paper Endorses Adlai

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (INS) — The Columbia University newspaper Daily Spectator today broke a 77-year tradition of political neutrality by endorsing Gov. Stevenson, Democratic rival of General Eisenhower, president of Columbia.

Chicagoans Put On Hoof By First Elevator Strike

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 (AP)—The first elevator operators strike in Chicago's history put nearly a half million office workers "on-the-hoof" today.

Thousands of resolute employes and executives — some carrying lunches or candy bars — trudged up the stairways to offices high in the city's skyscrapers.

Other thousands decided to stay grounded and went back home.

Business Operations Hit

The AFL Elevator Operators and Starters union began calling 1,350 operators off the job at 7:40 a. m.—before the morning Loop rush hour started.

The walkout, to enforce demands for higher wages and a shorter work week, quickly crippled business operations in 120 buildings. A union spokesman said the walkout could spread to other buildings.

The 45-story Board of Trade building, Chicago's tallest; the 44-story Civic Opera building; the 42-story Field building and the 42-story Lincoln Tower building were among those left without service. Union operators also left their jobs at the 38-story Pittsfield building, housing physicians, surgeons and dentists offices.

Board Of Trade Closes Early

The Chicago Board of Trade closed at 12:30 p. m. (CST) — an hour and 15 minutes early—because of the strike. The extra time after the closing was necessary to dispose of the transactions in the clearing house, six floors above the fourth-floor trading pit.

Many office managers on high floors told their employes to stay home.

Some produce and delivery drivers refused to cross picket lines set by the elevator operators.

Court Puts Stop To Cemetery Drag

OJAI, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP) — The Cemetery Drag had brief popularity but it gave way today to the Superior Court Lowdown.

Judge Walter J. Fourt told 23 teenagers and 15 parents that dancing in the moonlight in the cemetery must cease.

The youngsters, rounded up by police, said they went in for tombstone tangos and some beer-drinking just as a lark.

The judge said he'd help improve recreation facilities in town, but "a repetition of this incident is strictly out."

House Committee Accuses M'Grath Of Probe Balking

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — A congressional committee said today that J. Howard McGrath appeared to have tried to thwart its investigation of the Justice Department when he was attorney general.

In the report, the House Judiciary subcommittee also said McGrath exhibited "a deplorable lack of knowledge of the department he was supposed to administer."

"His testimony and his record as attorney general indicate that he was content to let the status quo remain without knowing what the status quo was," the investigators reported.

McGrath, former governor of Rhode Island and once a Democratic senator from that state, was attorney general from August, 1949, until last spring. President Truman fired him April 3.

Informed of the subcommittee's latest blast, McGrath told a reporter he had no intention of engaging in a cross fire of discussion on each of the committee's interim reports."

"I shall wait until they have concluded their work," he said, "and at that time I shall say what I think is appropriate."

The investigators said McGrath showed "no enthusiasm" for their probe, which was launched to find out, among other things, how the Justice Department handled prosecutions for income tax violations.

GOP Sen. Case Declares Stevenson Aide Associated With Communists

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Sen. Francis Case said today that Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., one of Adlai Stevenson's chief aides, has "had a long record of association with left-wing causes."

Schlesinger retorted that he never belonged to any of the organizations named by the South Dakota Republican, that he always has been an outspoken anti - Communist, and that the accusation shows Republican "desperation."

Criticising what he called "the long-time stand" of the 35-year-old Schlesinger, Case said in a statement through the Republican National Committee:

"One would be naive indeed to think that he has changed his attitudes or will change them as director of research for Candidate Stevenson or later, advisor, if Steevnson were elected.

"Those who do not want Schlesinger as a presidential advisor in the White House had better not vote for Stevenson."

Schlesinger, a Pulitzer Prize winner in history, has been a professor at Harvard University.

In the statement put out by the GOP committee today, Case said of Schlesinger:

"Back in 1944, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, in an official report, devoted some space to Mr. Schlesinger. He was, the report stated, a member of the National Citizens Political Action Committee, 83 per cent of whose members had records of affiliation with Communist or Communist front organizations."

2,250 Employes Will Lose VA Hospital Jobs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Veterans Administration announced today that 2,250 employes in its hospitals will be discharged, effective Nov. 4.

The VA said the reductions, in 92 hospitals and two domiciliary facilities, are "a step designed to help bring the agency within funds appropriated" by Congress for operation of its Department of Medicine and Surgery in the year which started July 1.

Those to be discharged are in the administrative, special services, custodial and maintenance ranks, a VA official told reporters.

REGGIO EMILIA, Italy, Oct. 1 (AP) — Derailment of a Rome-Milan electric express train killed four persons and injured 24 today.

U. S. Army Probes Riot In Which 52 Red POWs Killed

CHEJU ISLAND, Korea, Thursday, Oct. 2 (AP) — Five hundred Red Chinese prisoners unleashed their first big riot on their "independence day" Wednesday and one-third of them were cut down in a melee with U. S. guards.

Forty-five Red prisoners were killed and seven died in hospitals of injuries, the U. N. Prisoner of War Command said. Another 113 were hurt. It was the second deadliest riot in the long, bloody history of Communist prisoner violence in Korea.

Two of the 80 U. S. soldiers who rushed into the tumultuous compound were wounded slightly as they met the rock-throwing, club-swinging Chinese with rifle fire and bayonets.

Investigation Under Way

The prisoners hurled stones from behind the walls of a barracks they were building, and met the soldiers in the open with clubs, barbed wire flails and tent poles — the standard weapons the Red prisoners used before.

A board of Army officers flew to Cheju Island to begin an investigation.

It was the first time any of the 6,400 Chinese Communist die-hard prisoners had started any serious trouble. All the other violence here and on Koje Island, 125 miles to the northeast, was staged by Korean Reds.

Even so, it was topped in bloodshed only by a February riot on Koje in which 81 Korean Communist prisoners were killed.

No Grenades Used

Most of the slain and wounded Reds were victims of gunfire, a Prisoner of War Command spokesman said. He said no concussion grenades or tear gas were used.

"Machine guns were on the towers of the compound," he said. "I don't know if they were employed.

"It was a real fight. It has been the policy of the Prisoner of War Command to meet challenges with force. The incident today is another example of this policy."

Fighting broke out about 7:30 a.m. when American guards went to Compound 7 of POW Camp No. 34 to form work details.

GOP Officials Not Consulted, Nominee Says

General Outdraws Adlai In Michigan

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 1 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower asserted tonight that the Democrats alone were responsible for the loss of China to the Communist world.

The Republican presidential candidate, carrying his campaign through Michigan, told a wildly cheering audience in Grand Rapids: "The Republicans were not taken into counsel on China at all."

Eisenhower said that the decisions which resulted in China becoming the latest victim of the Reds were taken solely by the Democratic officials who are concerned with foreign policy in Washington.

"Only One Of Failures"

He cited this as "only one of the failures" that overtook the foreign policy of the United States when the bi-partisan method of formulating foreign policy was abandoned. Vice-versa, the general said, the successes that have been achieved by the United States in the struggle against communism came about when representatives of both parties were fully consulted.

As examples, he mentioned the building of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the bolstering of Turkey, Greece and other countries that have been menaced by the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower's talk in Grand Rapids had not been scheduled.

However, when his campaign train moved into the station a crowd estimated at 10,000 was waiting to hear him. For that reason, apparently, the general again discussed foreign policy, and the bi-partisan approach to it in government, as he did several times earlier today in Michigan.

Ike Outdraws Stevenson

He repeated that this close cooperation between the parties is essential and he said:

"Our potential enemies must know, beyond any question, where we stand. And our friends should not have to look over their shoulders, wondering where we stand."

Eisenhower appeared in seven key cities.

A compilation of police estimates of crowds indicated that somewhere in the neighborhood of 100,000 people saw and heard him. Crowds ranged from 5,000 to 20,000 at the back-platform talks from his campaign train.

But in Flint and Jackson, where he motorcaded through the streets and spoke from rostrums, the attendance went up much higher.

In Flint, a police officer fixed it between 35,000 and 40,000 and in Jackson it was estimated at 12,000 to 14,000.

Eisenhower's Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, covered some of this same Michigan area last September 1. The crowds were bigger today, and they appeared to be more enthusiastic.

Nixon Blasts Truman For "Smearing" Ike

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 1 (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon said tonight that President Truman's "monstrous attempt" to blame his administration's failures abroad on Dwight D. Eisenhower "is the most vicious smear in history."

The Republican vice presidential candidate's statement drew applause—and a few rebel yells—from the overflow audience in the 1,000 capacity high school auditorium.

"To think that Harry Truman, of all people," said Nixon, "would try to besmirch Dwight Eisenhower's reputation should make a whole nation rise up in righteous wrath."

The California senator, resuming his campaigning after a three day rest, looked up from his text and declared:

"Why that piano-playing letter writer!"

"Unprecedented Step"
Flying GOP "Truth Squad" To Dog Truman's Footsteps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) —The Republican National Committee announced that a flying "truth squad" of GOP senators starts out tonight to leap frog ahead of and behind President Truman's current whistle stop tour.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican national chairman, said Truman had forced the Republicans to take "this unprecedented step."

"When the President of the United States lowers the high office he holds to the role of hatchet operations dealing in distortions, irresponsible slanders, and, I regret to say, political prevarications, then it is time to act," Summerfield said in a statement.

He said the four-man "truth squad" would make major political speeches at night stops and would hold daytime news conferences.

The staff starts out from Washington tonight on a chartered DC-3 transport plane for Kalispeell, Mont. There Sens. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa and Francis Case of South Dakota will join to begin their leap frog operations tomorrow night. Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado will join then in the Central Rocky Mountain states.

Weather Forecast

"Sheer Poppycock"

Then in the Spokane speech Truman renewed the "snollygoster" charge he first made on a previous campaign swing, last Labor Day, for Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson. "Snollygoster," it was explained at that time, means a person who talks humbug for political gain.

Truman said the "snollygosters" are saying government deficits are too big, national bankruptcy is imminent, peace in the cold war would bring a new depression.

"Sheer poppycock," the President declared.

Asserting his administration has produced a budget surplus of nearly four billion dollars, and has reduced the public debt, he said:

"I am afraid that future historians will have to say that Harry Truman was just one of those old-fashioned fellows who believed in balancing the budget."

Tax Lien Filed Against W. Va. Demo Candidate

A lien for $1,487.88 was filed in District Court against Robert H. Mollohan, chief clerk of the Senate District Committee and Democratic candidate for Congress from the First West Virginia District.

Details of the alleged underpayment were not included in the formal lien as filed with the court.

Operators Ask WSB To Okay Mine Pay Hike

Northern Owners Act To Avert Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Harry Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, today asked the Wage Stabilization Board to approve the pay contract his Northern operators have signed with John L. Lewis.

The agreement provides a $1.90 a day increase for the United Mine Workers, who now have a basic minimum daily wage of $16.35. The agreement also commits the producers to increase from 30 to 40 cents a ton their contribution to the union's welfare and retirement fund.

WSB Has Three Courses

The wage board, headed by Archibald Cox, can take one of three courses: Approve the increase, which provides a higher raise than that allowed by cost-of-living wage regulations; reduce it; or reject it. If either of the latter two courses is followed by the board, Lewis is considered certain to take his men out of the mines on strike.

Southern soft coal producers, most of whom agreed to similar one-year contract terms with Lewis yesterday, have not yet filed their petition for approval of the new contract. Moses made his agreement with Lewis on Sept. 20.

Walkout Closes W. Va. Mines

Oct. 15 paychecks would be the first for Northern coal miners to represent the higher wage. Moses has cautioned members of his association, however, not automatically to raise pay checks on that date unless the wage board has given its full approval.

The question of WSB approval apparently lay behind an unexpected walkout which closed all but one of the major mines today in Monongalia County, W. Va.

Charles R. Nailler, president of Christopher Coal Co., guessed the stoppage was due to "unfounded apprehension" among the 4,000 non-workers about what the board would do. Local UMW leaders could not be reached for comment.

Jap Voters Back Pro-U. S. Policies

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 2 (AP)—Japan's voters stamped enthusiastic approval on the pro-U. S. policies of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida Wednesday while handing a cold rebuke to the Communists.

Yoshida's Liberal Party rolled far out in front in the first balloting for the 466 seats of the lower house of the Diet since Japan regained its independence last April.

A record total of 35,000,000 Japanese voted yesterday, more than 76 per cent of those eligible. With nearly half the contests decided, the Communists had failed to win a single seat, although they captured 35 in the last election. The Japanese were turning on them for their vicious anti-U. S. riots on May Day.

Columbia's Student Paper Endorses Adlai

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (INS) — The Columbia University newspaper Daily Spectator today broke a 77-year tradition of political neutrality by endorsing Gov. Stevenson, Democratic rival of General Eisenhower, president of Columbia.

Dodgers Exult After Series Victory

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 (AP)—The first elevator operators strike in Chicago's history put nearly a half million office workers "on-the-hoof" today.

Thousands of resolute employes and executives — some carrying lunches or candy bars — trudged up the stairways to offices high in the city's skyscrapers.

Other thousands decided to stay grounded and went back home.

Business Operations Hit

The AFL Elevator Operators and Starters union began calling 1,350 operators off the job at 7:40 a. m.—before the morning Loop rush hour started.

The walkout, to enforce demands for higher wages and a shorter work week, quickly crippled business operations in 120 buildings. A union spokesman said the walkout could spread to other buildings.

The 45-story Board of Trade building, Chicago's tallest; the 44-story Civic Opera building; the 42-story Field building and the 42-story Lincoln Tower building were among those left without service. Union operators also left their jobs at the 38-story Pittsfield building, housing physicians, surgeons and dentists offices.

Board Of Trade Closes Early

The Chicago Board of Trade closed at 12:30 p. m. (CST) — an hour and 15 minutes early—because of the strike. The extra time after the closing was necessary to dispose of the transactions in the clearing house, six floors above the fourth-floor trading pit.

Many office managers on high floors told their employes to stay home.

Court Puts Stop To Cemetery Drag

OJAI, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP) — The Cemetery Drag had brief popularity but it gave way today to the Superior Court Lowdown.

Judge Walter J. Fourt told 23 teenagers and 15 parents that dancing in the moonlight in the cemetery must cease.

The youngsters, rounded up by police, said they went in for tombstone tangos and some beer-drinking just as a lark.

The judge said he'd help improve recreation facilities in town, but "a repetition of this incident is strictly out."

House Committee Accuses M'Grath Of Probe Balking

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — A congressional committee said today that J. Howard McGrath appeared to have tried to thwart its investigation of the Justice Department when he was attorney general.

In the report, the House Judiciary subcommittee also said McGrath exhibited "a deplorable lack of knowledge of the department he was supposed to administer."

"His testimony and his record as attorney general indicate that he was content to let the status quo remain without knowing what the status quo was," the investigators reported.

McGrath, former governor of Rhode Island and once a Democratic senator from that state, was attorney general from August, 1949, until last spring. President Truman fired him April 3.

Informed of the subcommittee's latest blast, McGrath told a reporter he had no intention of engaging in a cross fire of discussion on each of the committee's interim reports."

"I shall wait until they have concluded their work," he said, "and at that time I shall say what I think is appropriate."

The investigators said McGrath showed "no enthusiasm" for their probe, which was launched to find out, among other things, how the Justice Department handled prosecutions for income tax violations.

2,250 Employes Will Lose VA Hospital Jobs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Veterans Administration announced today that 2,250 employes in its hospitals will be discharged, effective Nov. 4.

The VA said the reductions, in 92 hospitals and two domiciliary facilities, are "a step designed to help bring the agency within funds appropriated" by Congress for operation of its Department of Medicine and Surgery in the year which started July 1.

Those to be discharged are in the administrative, special services, custodial and maintenance ranks, a VA official told reporters.

U.S. Army Probes Riot In Which 52 Red POWs Killed

CHEJU ISLAND, Korea, Thursday, Oct. 2 (AP) — Five hundred Red Chinese prisoners unleashed their first big riot on their "independence day" Wednesday and one-third of them were cut down in a melee with U. S. guards.

Forty-five Red prisoners were killed and seven died in hospitals of injuries, the U. N. Prisoner of War Command said. Another 113 were hurt. It was the second deadliest riot in the long, bloody history of Communist prisoner violence in Korea.

Two of the 80 U. S. soldiers who rushed into the tumultuous compound were wounded slightly as they met the rock-throwing, club-swinging Chinese with rifle fire and bayonets.

Investigation Under Way

The prisoners hurled stones from behind the walls of a barracks they were building, and met the soldiers in the open with clubs, barbed wire flails and tent poles — the standard weapons the Red prisoners used before.

A board of Army officers flew to Cheju Island to begin an investigation.

It was the first time any of the 6,400 Chinese Communist die-hard prisoners had started any serious trouble. All the other violence here and on Koje Island, 125 miles to the northeast, was staged by Korean Reds.

Even so, it was topped in bloodshed only by a February riot on Koje in which 81 Korean Communist prisoners were killed.

No Grenades Used

Most of the slain and wounded Reds were victims of gunfire, a Prisoner of War Command spokesman said. He said no concussion grenades or tear gas were used.

"Machine guns were on the towers of the compound," he said. "I don't know if they were employed.

"It was a real fight. It has been the policy of the Prisoner of War Command to meet challenges with force. The incident today is another example of this policy."

Fighting broke out about 7:30 a.m. when American guards went to Compound 7 of POW Camp No. 34 to form work details.

GOP Officials Not Consulted, Nominee Says

General Outdraws Adlai In Michigan

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 1 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower asserted tonight that the Democrats alone were responsible for the loss of China to the Communist world.

The Republican presidential candidate, carrying his campaign through Michigan, told a wildly cheering audience in Grand Rapids: "The Republicans were not taken into counsel on China at all."

Eisenhower said that the decisions which resulted in China becoming the latest victim of the Reds were taken solely by the Democratic officials who are concerned with foreign policy in Washington.

"Only One Of Failures"

He cited this as "only one of the failures" that overtook the foreign policy of the United States when the bi-partisan method of formulating foreign policy was abandoned. Vice-versa, the general said, the successes that have been achieved by the United States in the struggle against communism came about when representatives of both parties were fully consulted.

As examples, he mentioned the building of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the bolstering of Turkey, Greece and other countries that have been menaced by the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower's talk in Grand Rapids had not been scheduled.

However, when his campaign train moved into the station a crowd estimated at 10,000 was waiting to hear him. For that reason, apparently, the general again discussed foreign policy, and the bi-partisan approach to it in government, as he did several times earlier today in Michigan.

Ike Outdraws Stevenson

He repeated that this close cooperation between the parties is essential and he said:

"Our potential enemies must know, beyond any question, where we stand. And our friends should not have to look over their shoulders, wondering where we stand."

Eisenhower appeared in seven key cities.

A compilation of police estimates of crowds indicated that somewhere in the neighborhood of 100,000 people saw and heard him. Crowds ranged from 5,000 to 20,000 at the back-platform talks from his campaign train.

But in Flint and Jackson, where he motorcaded through the streets and spoke from rostrums, the attendance went up much higher.

In Flint, a police officer fixed it between 35,000 and 40,000 and in Jackson it was estimated at 12,000 to 14,000.

Eisenhower's Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, covered some of this same Michigan area last September 1. The crowds were bigger today, and they appeared to be more enthusiastic.

Nixon Blasts Truman For "Smearing" Ike

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 1 (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon said tonight that President Truman's "monstrous attempt" to blame his administration's failures abroad on Dwight D. Eisenhower "is the most vicious smear in history."

The Republican vice presidential candidate's statement drew applause—and a few rebel yells—from the overflow audience in the 1,000 capacity high school auditorium.

"To think that Harry Truman, of all people," said Nixon, "would try to besmirch Dwight Eisenhower's reputation should make a whole nation rise up in righteous wrath."

The California senator, resuming his campaigning after a three day rest, looked up from his text and declared:

"Why that piano-playing letter writer!"

GOP Sen. Case Declares Stevenson Aide Associated With Communists

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) — Sen. Francis Case said today that Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., one of Adlai Stevenson's chief aides, has "had a long record of association with left-wing causes."

Schlesinger retorted that he never belonged to any of the organizations named by the South Dakota Republican, that he always has been an outspoken anti - Communist, and that the accusation shows Republican "desperation."

Criticising what he called "the long-time stand" of the 35-year-old Schlesinger, Case said in a statement through the Republican National Committee:

"One would be naive indeed to think that he has changed his attitudes or will change them as director of research for Candidate Stevenson or later, advisor, if Steevnson were elected.

"Those who do not want Schlesinger as a presidential advisor in the White House had better not vote for Stevenson."

Schlesinger, a Pulitzer Prize winner in history, has been a professor at Harvard University.

In the statement put out by the GOP committee today, Case said of Schlesinger:

"Back in 1944, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, in an official report, devoted some space to Mr. Schlesinger. He was, the report stated, a member of the National Citizens Political Action Committee, 83 per cent of whose members had records of affiliation with Communist or Communist front organizations."

"Unprecedented Step"

Flying GOP "Truth Squad" To Dog Truman's Footsteps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP) —The Republican National Committee announced that a flying "truth squad" of GOP senators starts out tonight to leap frog ahead of and behind President Truman's current whistle stop tour.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican national chairman, said Truman had forced the Republicans to take "this unprecedented step."

"When the President of the United States lowers the high office he holds to the role of hatchet operations dealing in distortions, irresponsible slanders, and, I regret to say, political prevarications, then it is time to act," Summerfield said in a statement.

He said the four-man "truth squad" would make major political speeches at night stops and would hold daytime news conferences.

The staff starts out from Washington tonight on a chartered DC-3 transport plane for Kalispeell, Mont. There Sens. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa and Francis Case of South Dakota will join to begin their leap frog operations tomorrow night. Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado will join then in the Central Rocky Mountain states.

Warm, sunny weather prevailed in Elkins today as visitors began to arrive for the four days of activities at the 16th annual festival.

An official party met Miss Dieckmann, traveling with her parents, at Huttonsville today and escorted her to Elkins.

Stops were made along the route for brief appearances by the festival queen outside schools at Dailey, Mill Creek and Beverly. She also was greeted by assembled children at appearances later in the day at Elkins schools and the State Children's Home here.

Among the festival guests arriving today were Air Force Maj. Charles Yaeger of Hamlin, first man to fly faster than sound.

The 17-year-old queen and her court, festival officials and guests will attend a banquet tonight. The festival will begin formally tomorrow morning.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives had been scheduled to officiate at the coronation ceremony on the Davis and Elkins College campus. Gamblers Using Fraternal Groups To Beat Wager Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau warned lodges and fraternal societies today against falling for a new gamblers' scheme to use non-profit organizations as a front to beat the federal wagering tax.

Tax officials disclosed at a news conference that they have come upon at least a dozen cases of the sort, mostly in Indiana.

They said that the societies involved could lose their tax-exempt status and be subject to tax assessments for the wagers handled.

James Guthrie, acting chief of the bureau's special racketeer investigators, said many gamblers went out of business or went underground after last November when the government put a 10 per cent tax on wagers and a $50 occupational tax on the bet takers.

Guthrie read a statement from John Dunlap, head of the Internal Revenue Bureau, warning tax-exempt groups not to let themselves become "dupes" in any such scheme. Dunlap said the practice was spreading.

Dunlap said that generally the gambler arranges to operate a lottery as though it were being done by the society involved "while in fact there is no real change in the operation. The activity is still conducted by the gambler."

Barrelville is one of three county schools which have been abandoned now that the new Mt. Savage School is open. The others are Dutch Hollow and the old Mt. Savage School. Title to all three abandoned schools will revert back to the county commissioners.

CIA Director Appeals To Gen. Eisenhower

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith told President Truman today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower promised to "get on the matter at once" when he was asked to stop any Republican move to make the question of Communists in the Central Intelligence Agency a campaign issue.

Smith, head of the CIA, made the statement in a memorandum to the President released aboard the Truman campaign train just outside Eureka, Mont. He said both Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson had "indicated their agreement" it would be "deplorable" if precautions taken by sensitive government agencies were used "for political capital."

Truman Assails GOP 'Wreckers'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—President Truman said tonight that the Republicans would consider a GOP victory next month "a blank check to tear down the things that have been built up in spite of their opposition in the last 20 years."

He said the Republicans have fought such things as social security, the growth of unions, minimum wage laws, firm price supports and adequate defense funds.

Truman made his remarks in a broadcast sponsored by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union on the American Broadcasting Company. He recorded the address at the White House before leaving on his present whistle stop campaign tour.

The garment workers have bought time for five weekly broadcasts featuring top names of the Democratic party and show business.

Truman said the Republicans started a tearing down process in the 80th Congress, which they controlled, "but I was in the White House and I was able to hold them back."

Leukemia Claims Life Of Youngster Given Army Tank

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP) —Four-year-old Kenneth Ward of Fresno, a leukemia victim whose love of Army tanks made news last month, died last night.

The youngster became seriously ill yesterday while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ward, were taking him to his birthplace in Poteau, Okla., for a last reunion with his four grandparents.

The Wards were fulfilling another of the youngster's last wishes when they started the trip to Oklahoma. He had repeatedly asked for a visit with his four grandparents in Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ward of Poteau and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones of Spiro.

Kenneth realized his greatest ambition Sept. 7 when a National Guard outfit in Fresno presented him with a General Sherman type tank as a birthday gift.

Wartime Commander Of 29th Will Retire

FORT MEADE, Md., Oct. 1 (AP)—Maryland and Virginia members of the 29th Infantry Division were invited to attend tomorrow a review to honor their wartime commander, Maj. Gen. Charles Hunter Gerhardt, upon his retirement.

Gerhardt led the 29th in the Normandy invasion and on its march through France into Germany.

He has been in the Army for 35 years and joins in retirement his father, Brig. Gen. Charles Gerhardt.

Stray TV Signals Blamed

DESERONTO, Ont., Oct. 1 (AP) — Royal Canadian Air Force officials said today they suspect stray television signals from Rochester, N. Y., are causing radio-guided robot gunnery target planes to crash in this area. Five $3,000 target craft have been lost recently by the RCAF.

CIA Director Appeals To Gen. Eisenhower

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith told President Truman today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower promised to "get on the matter at once" when he was asked to stop any Republican move to make the question of Communists in the Central Intelligence Agency a campaign issue.

Smith, head of the CIA, made the statement in a memorandum to the President released aboard the Truman campaign train just outside Eureka, Mont. He said both Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson had "indicated their agreement" it would be "deplorable" if precautions taken by sensitive government agencies were used "for political capital."

Russia's Zorin Loses In First U. N. Vote Test

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin went down to defeat in the U. N. Disarmament Commission today in his first appearance as Russia's permanent delegate to the U. N.

The commission voted 9 to 2, with Pakistan abstaining, to hold closed meetings to consider its report to the U. N. Assembly. Zorin, who objected to these closed sessions, was joined in the negative vote by Hernan Santa Cruz of Chile.

Leukemia Claims Life Of Youngster Given Army Tank

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP) —Four-year-old Kenneth Ward of Fresno, a leukemia victim whose love of Army tanks made news last month, died last night.

The youngster became seriously ill yesterday while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ward, were taking him to his birthplace in Poteau, Okla., for a last reunion with his four grandparents.

The Wards were fulfilling another of the youngster's last wishes when they started the trip to Oklahoma. He had repeatedly asked for a visit with his four grandparents in Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ward of Poteau and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones of Spiro.

Kenneth realized his greatest ambition Sept. 7 when a National Guard outfit in Fresno presented him with a General Sherman type tank as a birthday gift.

End To Spending Curb Here Proposed By Senator Kimble

State Senator Robert B. Kimble has suggested removal of the ceiling on the amount the Mayor and Council may levy for operating expenses of the city.

The suggestion was made at a meeting of the Allegany County Delegation Tuesday during a discussion of requests made by the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association. Kimble is Senate minority leader.

According to the grapevine, the legislators reported, the Mayor and Council will ask that the present 95 cent tax limitation be raised to $1.05 to meet the increased costs of government and to increase wages of city employes.

Senator Kimble suggested that the General Assembly take the ceiling off, adding that if the people do not like it if taxes are raised "they will kick them out."

He added the legislature does not set the limits for the state or the counties and said he saw no reason why "we should do it for the city."

Delegate Horace P. Whitworth Jr., declaring he was strongly for statutory home rule, said he would go along with lifting the ceiling for Cumberland.

He added he did not like the idea of electing good men to the Mayor and Council and then going over their heads.

The effect of lifting the ceiling, the delegation pointed out, will be to give the Mayor and Council the power—and the responsibility of any action which will affect the cost of government.

The purpose of the meeting was to allow the Cumberland Police and Fire Departments to present an outline of the legislation they want in the coming session of the Assembly.

Delegate Charles M. See, chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

Soviet All-Union Congress

International observers will pay special attention to the address of Deputy Premier Malenkov at the general congress of the Soviet All-Union Communist party, scheduled to open in Moscow on October 5. Malenkov will be giving the report of the Central Committee of the party, thus playing a role in which Premier Stalin has heretofore been cast. Stalin read the organizational report in 1923 and 1924, the political report in 1925, 1927, and 1930, and the report of the Central Committee in 1934 and 1939.

Selection of Malenkov to give the report does not necessarily mean that he is being groomed to succeed Stalin, who will be 73 in December. It is true that Malenkov has the ranking position on the Central Commitee's Secretariat next to Stalin. Malenkov is also a member of both the Politburo, which makes policy for Russian and world communism, and the Orgburo, charged with "the general direction of organization work." But so is Deputy Premier Molotov, generally considered Malenkov's chief rival for the power that is Stalin's.

Malenkov's principal Politburo ally, himself occasionally mentioned as heir for Stalin, is Lavrenti Beria, commissar for internal affairs and thus commander of the feared secret police. Aligned with Molotov is Marshal Bulganin, considered to represent the political interests of the armed services.

Apart from speculation on the succession in the Communist hierarchy, which may indeed be smoothed out at the congress, the interest in Malenkov's speech will center on what he has to say about international affairs. It was a similar speech of Stalin at the last previous party congress—in March 1939—that gave the world the first hint of the possibility of a German-Russian accord such as that which was concluded in August of that year.

Stalin's speech on that occasion noticeably lacked invective against Germany and Japan, though those two aggressor nations had already been linked in an anti-Comintern treaty. The press of the Western democracies, according to Stalin, had been trying to "arouse the fury of the Soviet Union against Germany to poison the atmosphere and provoke a conflict without apparent cause."

In the non-intervention policy of Great Britain, France, and the United States, Stalin charged in 1939, was "revealed the desire not to interfere with and prevent aggressors from committing their black deeds —not to prevent Japan, for instance, from getting tied up in a war with China, still better, with the USSR; not to prevent Germany, for instance, from getting stuck in European affairs or getting tied up in war with the Soviet Union—but to let war participants get tied up deeply in war, to encourage them in this silently, to let them grow weak and exhaust each other, and later on, when they are sufficiently weak, to enter upon the scene with fresh strength—but, of course, 'in the interests of peace'—and dictate to the weakened participants in war on their own conditions. Both cheaply and sweetly."

Stalin's 1939 speech started a brief flurry of rumors of a rapprochement between Germany and Russia. Post-World War II investigations have disclosed that German diplomats acted on Stalin's hints, asked what he meant by them, and entered into the negotiations that brought about the August 1939 pact.

In addition to hearing party leaders, delegates to the forthcoming Congress will adopt a new five-year plan—already announced and in operation—adopt new rules on party membership and discipline, and merge the Politburo and Orgburo into a new Presidium of the Central Committee. Also the Central Committee will have to be reconstituted, for at least 17 members have died since 1939, and 52 others have "dropped from prominence."

North Pole? Ho Hum

Part of a press tour staged by the Air Force to the great new air base at Thule, in northwestern Greenland, was a trip to the North Pole. Newsmen were loaded into a heated, pressurized C-54, which rose smoothly from the new landing strip at this northernmost base and headed north.

Correspondents were told they had four hours and more of sitting to do before the Pole would be reached and were urged to make themselves comfortable.

As they neared their objective, the navigator began to toll the rising latitudes, the Pole, of course, being latitude 90. Generations who read of the agonies suffered by Admiral Robert Peary nearly a half century ago in his trek to the Pole afoot and by dog sled might have expected some suspenseful prose to come out of this first press junket.

Here was a navigational pinpoint which people have come to use as a comparative for the unapproachable.

Apparently the newsmen tried their best, but circumstances were rigged against them. Most of them were hardly awake after hours of the comfortable drone of the engines and the monotonous icescape. The instant of passage over the Pole barely made a dent in a tense bridge game.

The trouble was, it was routine in the most monotonous sense of the word. More enthusiasm was shown in the filed dispatches for a steak dinner that was served after the plane turned back toward Thule.

In other times and other circumstances there would probably have been a different spirit about the whole incident. If the newsmen had footed it the last 50 miles, they would have appreciated the accomplishment. But polar flights are now old stuff.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

Tremor And Rigid Muscles

In Parkinson's disease (shaking palsy, paralysis agitans, or parkinsonism), certain vessels of the brain are hardened as a result of the aging process. As longevity increases, more and more persons can be expected to reach the age when the condition develops; consequently the number of cases is on the rise. But our scientists are keeping pace so that today the physician can select a remedy from the variety available.

True Parkinson's is more common in men and most victims are between 50 and 70 years of age. It begins so insidiously that the majority are unable to recall when the condition started. Early signs are slight stiffness of the arms and legs, muscular weakness, and infrequent eye blinking. Later, there is a rhythmic pill-rolling tremor of the hands and often constant nodding of the head. Stiffness and rigidity of the muscles leads to palsy and those in the head, neck, back, and extremities are favored. Tightening of the facial muscles smooths out the natural wrinkles, producing an emotionless, mask-like expression which is accentuated by the apparent staring of the eyes.

The disease progresses slowly and after many years the trunk bends forward and the body seems to move as a whole so that in turning it shifts to the left or right. Movements are slow and the gait is shuffling, with short steps. Hand tremors are coarse and usually are made worse by emotional upsets but shaking stops temporarily during voluntary movements. In time the voice becomes hesitant and monotonous. Occasionally these individuals are labeled stutterers; some cannot utter a word. Involvement of the respiratory muscles may produce snorting or grunting sounds. The skin is unusually oily and perspiration is profuse.

There is no cure yet much can be done to arrest the progress of the condition and alleviate symptoms. Many of the remedies are directed against muscular rigidity and they include hyoscine, artane, caramiphen, hydrochloride, myanesin, benadryd, and W-483 (called lysivane by the British). Some of these compounds work better than others but when the patient responds there is improvement in voice, posture, walk, tremor, and facial expression.

The over-all picture deserves consideration. These patients ought to be encouraged to help themselves by performing tasks in keeping with their abilities. Drugs that combat lassitude have a tonic influence and may mean the difference between helplessness and activity. Artane is said to have this effect by producing some mental stimulation; the victim becomes more lively, cheerful, and energetic. Combinations of the various drugs often are more effective than one.

The Parkinson syndrome also may follow diseases such as influenza and encephalitis. This phenomenon was first noted after the 1918 epidemic of the flu. Other cases are on a toxic basis and have been traced to poisoning from carbon monoxide and various metals.

WINKING

W. P. writes: A nerve on the right side of my face twitches, which makes me look like I'm winking all the time. I'm very sensitive about it and when I'm around people it gets worse. Is this disorder curable?

REPLY

This sounds like a tic and twitching is caused by muscular contractions as a result of nerve stimulation. The condition is difficult to cure, even by a neurologist who specializes in nerve disturbances.

FEARS LARYNGOSCOPE

A. R. writes: A year ago I was given a laryngoscopic examination, which was extremely painful. I told my mother then I would never go through with it again as long as I live. My parents keep telling me I'm too young to realize how important it is that my larynx be examined in this way because of polyps on the vocal cords and hoarseness. Rather than go through it again I rested my voice for one solid month but this didn't help.

REPLY

Your fear may stem from the fact that the anesthetic was not complete the first time. Why not discuss the whole subject with your physician so that the next time you have it the procedure will be painless?

INSECTS AND ALLERGY

P. L. writes: Can insects cause allergy?

REPLY

No, but many individuals are allergic to the bites of such insects as chiggers, mosquitoes, fleas, bedbugs, moths, caterpillars, bees, and wasps. It is for this reason that the antihistaminics are of value. In severe reactions, adrenalin, ACTH, or cortisone are needed.

INTESTINAL TUBERCULOSIS

D. C. writes: Is tuberculosis of the intestine curable?

REPLY

I understand that good results are being obtained with streptomycin and PAS (para-aminosalicylic acid), either alone or in combination.

Republicans At Odds Over Money For Ike's Spot Announcements; Nixon Snubs Oklahoma Editors; Hagerty May Be Eased Out As Press Aide

WASHINGTON — After General Eisenhower spent two days at a New York film studio recording radio and TV "spots" for the windup of his campaign, the Republican high command is at odds regarding their use. More specifically, they are at odds on how to raise the money to buy the radio and TV time for their use.

The subject came up at a meeting of top GOP money-raisers in New York recently, at which Lloyd Dalzell, dynamic, young tugboat operator, offered to raise $600,000 to $800,000.

"I will raise the money, but only to be used for the general's spot announcements," he said.

However, others were skeptical; not over Dalzell's ability to raise money, but over the same issue which has caused friction inside the Republican party in the past—local leadership vs. national leadership.

Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank and brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, was afraid that Dalzell's money-raising would conflict with local money-raising. He feared he would tap the same moneyed people that local leaders will have to tap. Others agreed. Even if the national ticket should lose, they argued, Republican organizations must be kept strong locally and local tickets must be elected.

Jock Whitney, who once served in the Roosevelt administration and married Jimmie Roosevelt's ex-wife, took the opposite view. He felt nothing was more important than raising money for the spot radio and TV time.

These consist of radio recordings and TV kinescopes in which Eisenhower answers current political questions. They are to be used in the last three weeks of the campaign "saturate" key states in the East and Midwest, which Truman carried in 1948 by only a narrow margin.

This idea was evolved by Rosser Reeves, ace advertising specialist for the Ted Bates agency. Co-operating with him was Mike Levin of the Edwin-Wasey Agency. Later Fred Rudge of Fisher, Rudge & Neblett came in.

NOTE—Presiding over the finance meeting was Sidney Weinberg, head of the giant banking house of Goldman-Sachs. Born in Russia, brought up in Brooklyn, Weinberg is a director of more corporations than he can recite himself, got to know Gen. Lucius Clay during World War II days in Washington, later got Clay his job with Continental Can. It was through Clay that Weinberg got on the Eisenhower bandwagon.

Nixon's Press

Dynamic Dick, the GOP vice presidential hopeful, can certainly rub newspaper editors and publishers the wrong way.

Commented Wheeler Mayo, publisher of the Sallisaw Times and Claremore Daily Progress:

"Never in my 20 years of owning and operating newspapers and as past president of the Oklahoma Press Association have I witnessed the snubbing that Nixon gave the press.

"Oklahoma editors were called by special invitation for the specific purpose of attending a question-and-answer conference. It was a fiasco.

"Editors found that they had been called to a stacked meeting to witness and be impressed by a 15-minute glamour-boy show in which Nixon acted three parts—his own moderator, interrogator and the answerer of his own questions.

"His refusal to answer questions, in contrast with Sparkman's give-and-take of the day before, made Nixon look silly."

NOTE—The point most newsmen and the public want Nixon to explain is how he paid $20,000 down on his Washington house, while also buying a house in California, after his wife wrote in the Saturday Evening Post that they sometimes didn't have enough money to buy postage.

Ike's Press

Jim Hagerty, press aide to Eisenhower and one of the best in the business, may be eased out. He's been the subject of considerable private debate among the general's advisers, so much so that John Foster Dulles, a good friend of both Ike and Governor Dewey, has been in touch with Dewey regarding the situation.

Hagerty is a veteran of many Presidential campaigns, having been righthand man to Governor Dewey. He is popular with newsmen, but has one handicap — the general doesn't know his well. And the general doesn't feel comfortable with people he hasn't known a long time.

For one thing, Hagerty can't get in to see him on important questions which should be given the press without delay. Eisenhower's friends keep a tight wall around him, anxious to conserve his strength.

The man who would take Hagerty's place, if he leaves, is Maj. Gen. Wilton G. Persons, an old friend of Ike's, who is an expert at getting along with people in tight places. During part of the war he was the Army's top lobbyist on Capitol Hill, had the job of smoothing the ruffled fur of congressmen.

Protestants Suppressed

Following the lead of Spain and Colombia, Peron's dictatorship in Argentina has now started cracking down in freedom of worship. It is doing this by revoking the preaching permits of Protestant pastors on trumped-up political charges.

Rev. Julio N. Sabanes, Uruguayan minister of the Central Methodist Church in Buenos Aires, and Rev. Angel Sainz, an Argentine pastor of the United Protestant Church at the fashionable seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, were both notified by the Peron government a few days ago that they would no longer be permitted to conduct services.

Significantly, the charge sounded like the pretexts of Communist regimes to eliminate independent religions.

The two Protestant pastors were formally accused by the Argentine Ministry of Foreign Relations and Worship with having denounced the high cost of living.

The Negro Vote

Prior to the Civil War, the Negro problem was limited to the South, in the sense that the Negro population was concentrated there. In the North, there was an intellectual and emotional repsonse to the institution of slavery. The war was ostensibly fought over the constitutional issue of state sovereignty and the right of a state to secede from the union. The realistic issue was a struggle between North and South over conflicting economic systems.

In 1952, the Negro problem is universal in the United States because whereas in the South, it again raises the constitutional question of the sovereignty of each state in the union, in the North and West, it involves the political control of each state.

In the following states, the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties ran five per cent or under in 1948: New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois Wisconsin, Iowa, South Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, California and Nevada.

In those states, therefore, the shave was close and the parties would normally regard any group that might vote as a bloc as tremendously important, quite apart from any question of right or wrong.

In some of these states, the Negro population runs higher than the difference between the parties in the 1948 vote. For instance, in New York State, which Dewey carried by the tip of his nose, under one per cent, the Negroes constitute over six per cent of the population. Even granting that they will not all vote as Negroes, the figures stir politicians to regard the Negro as a balance in the election. In New York City, such a balance of power can actually be established in the voting statistics during recent years, particularly if to the Negro vote is added the Puerto Rican vote.

In a state like Maryland, where the difference between the two parties ran just over one per cent, the Negro population runs close to 17 per cent. Similar situations exist in Delaware, Illinois, and Michigan.

Before Franklin D. Roosevelt, what is generally called the Negro vote was Republican. It was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, David Niles and Fiorello LaGuardia who specialized in services for the Negro. It is true that Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Irving Ives realized the enormity of the competition. They put the New York FEPC through the legislature and started that ball rolling. It won for them personal popularity among the Negroes, which, however, has not passed from those individuals to the Republican party.

President Harry Truman, although of Southern predilections, recognized the value of the Northern Negro to the Democratic party. He went further than Roosevelt in cultivating the Negro. On the issue of FEPC, which he calls civil rights, he split his party, risking the ire and opposition of the Southern Democrats. Nothing in Truman's career to his Presidency indicates any particular love for the Negro. As a politician, in office, he recognized a bonanza when he saw it. Of Roosevelt's entourage, the only person that he retained was David Niles, who had handled the so-called minorities for Roosevelt. Niles was a Harry Hopkins protege and was equally cynical and opportunistic.

In this article, there is no discussion of general principles, of right or wrong, of any philosophy of life. Here, only political mechanics is being considered. The decision of both political parties is to seek to gain and hold the Northern Negro vote in critical states at any cost and to make any sacrifices necessary for it. The Democrats have renounced the history of their party, basic principles of States Rights, and have undoubtedly destroyed the Solid South as a political entity. The Republicans cannot match that, but they are hoping that they can wean the Negro back to their bosom.

Where differences between the parties in 1948 were only one or two per cent, a slight shift in the Negro vote may change the entire election.

The Negro is the only large group of voters who is still regarded as voting racially. The Jewish vote hardly exists: it will be found in 1952 that the districts in which Jews prevail will not be different from districts in the same city where Jews are scarce. The so-called German vote does not exist. The labor vote was wholly disproved in the Taft campaign in Ohio in 1950.

Politicians like bloc voting, when they can get it, un-American as it is.

The Politics Of Confusion

ST. LOUIS

It is amusing, and sometimes rather revealing, to try in the imagination to explain an American political situation, like that here in Missouri, to a European visitor.

W. Stuart Symington, formerly President Truman's secertary of the Air Force, is the Democratic candidate for the Senate here. He won the nomination over the public opposition of the President.

("Then, of course, Mr. Symington is opposing the Truman administration?" "No, certainly not. You're getting it all wrong.")

Symington is a close friend of the Republican candidate for President, Dwight D. Eisenhower. He deeply admires Eisenhower, and has consistently supported the international policies for which Eisenhower stands.

("Then naturally Mr. Symington wishes that Gen. Eisenhower will be elected?" "Heavens no. He is strongly supporting Eisenhower's opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.")

Throughout his Senate service, the Republican incumbent, Sen. James P. Kem, has bitterly and consistently opposed just about everything Gen. Eisenhower stands for. Kem even voted against the North Atlantic Treaty.

("Then, one assumes, Kem is opposing Eisenhower and Eisenhower is opposing Kem?" "Don't be silly. When Eisenhower was in St. Louis some days ago, he roundly endorsed Sen. Kem, and Sen. Kem is, as we say in this country, hanging on to Eisenhower's coat-tails for dear life.")

Nothing In Common

At this point, the imaginary European visitor is presumably cross-eyed with confusion, yet the situation described above (which is of course perfecty clear and simple to any American) is nevertheless interesting, in that it is typical of a peculiar phenomenon of this campaign. Like a number of other Republican candidates of the famous "class of 1946" (Sen. William Jenner of Indiana, for example, or Harry Cain of Washington) Sen. Kem's hopes for re-election are squarely based on two premises.

The first is that the immensely popular Eisenhower will sweep the country, and sweep Kem back into the Senate in the process. Kem is therefore seizing every possible opportunity to identify himself with Eisenhower—with whom, of course, he has virtually nothing in common.

The second premise is that the voters can also be rendered cross-eyed with confusion, so that they will conveniently forget Kem's voting record. Kem has therefore attacked Symington on so many fronts that the unfortunate Symington, who has never before had first-hand experience of an election, sometimes seems a trifle punch-drunk.

One can hardly blame him. It must be an unpleasant experience for a man of hitherto distinguished reputation to find himself simultaneously pictured as a blood-soaked war profiteer, a "golf-playing crony of Communists," and the chosen agent of British international bankers. These three charges against Symington provide typical examples of a political technique which is now widely practiced. The object of this technique is simply to confuse the voters, to raise "the big doubt" in their minds.

Kem And McCarthy

Symington sold his stock in the Emerson Electric Company, of which he had been president, when he entered public office. He did so in order to avoid charges of favoring his old company. But the stock had increased in value during Symington's term as president of the company—and so Symington is a war profiteer.

Symington is a crony of Communists, as well as blood-soaked capitalist, because a Communist, one William Sentner, once headed the Emerson union local. Symington of course never played golf with Sentner. But, as president of Emercon Electric, he did deal with Sentner on labor matters. Legally, he had no choice. Such fine points, however, do not concern Sen. Kem, and they are not likely to concern Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, whom Kem has invited to campaign for him in Missouri.

Symington is a stooge of British international bankers because he once rented a house from a British banker, one Sir William Wiseman. Wiseman is supposed to have selected Symington as his chosen instrument to "punish" Kem for his "pro-American" record. Actually, Symington never laid eyes on this "sinister figure."

This is enough to suggest the nature of Sen. Kem's special political technique. The whole business is amusing enough in some ways, what with Kem's remarkable agility in the attack, and the dazed condition of the novice Symington. But, as Symington says, "Win, lose, or draw, I'm through—this is the last time I run for anything."

If the sort of thing described above becomes accepted practice in American politics, it will soon be impossible to persuade men of reputation and principle to run for public office. And this is not amusing.

Fortunately — and fortunately especially for Gen. Eisenhower, if he is elected — knowledgeable observers here believe that all Kem's frantic agility will do him little good in November. They believe that the popular Eisenhower has a slim, fighting chance to carry normally Democratic Missouri. But they also believe that when it comes to Kem, the pro-Eisenhower voters will split their ticket. This suggests that the voters may be smarter than politicians like Kem think they are.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This campaign has already set a record in one respect—it's the first time a vice presidential nominee has become widely known. Judging by the mail and telegrams received by the Republican National Committee, more persons know Senator Richard M. Nixon than ever before knew a vice presidential nominee.

As for the big crowds which are assembling to hear Senator Nixon everywhere, he probably holds the record for attendance at meetings addressed by any vice presidential nominee in recent years.

Senator Nixon has been here a few days and naturally the reporters have been asking him for further details which here and there some critics are saying were omitted from his nation-wide television and radio speech or were not fully understood. The senator has decided not to discuss the matter for quotation any further, because he feels it has resolved itself now into a smokescreen designed to divert attention from the main issues of the campaign.

This correspondent has obtained the following information bearing on various questions asked since the historic telecast:

Others Have Comparable Homes

1. How did the senator accumulate the $20,000 for the down payment on his house? The answer is this: By a careful reading of the speech it will be found that the senator and his wife had $10,000 saved before he was elected to Congress. His speech revealed that he and his wife inherited $4,500. He also stated that he averaged $1,500 a year from speaking or about $7,500 in five years. This totals more than the $20,000 needed for the down payment. Incidentally, a number of senators own homes of comparable worth in the same neighborhood.

2. Why did an article in the "Saturday Evening Post" quote Mrs. Nixon last summer as saying, "We were broke and didn't have enough money for postage stamps"? This refers to the first Nixon campaign for Congress, which indeed was without adequate funds.

3. Why didn't the senator give out his income tax returns? The answer is that the Treasury Department has them on file now and, if there were the slightest discrepancy between the statement in his speech as to the only sources of income and anything reported in his income tax, that fact could surely become known to the administration. To put it another way, nobody thinks anyone like Senator Nixon would ever venture to make a public statement of his sources of income and fail to include any that had been reported on his income tax return. So the senator is said to have felt any disclosure of the text of his income tax return would be superfluous.

4. Why did Senator Nixon say in his speech: "Every penny of it (the fund) was used to pay for political expenses that I did not think should be charged to the taxpayers of the United States"? The answer is this: The main items for which the certified public accounting firm revealed the $18,000 fund had been spent could have been paid for by money received in various ways, such as putting one's wife on the Senate office payroll for $8,000, using the "frank" or free postage system to take care of about $4,200 in Christmas greetings to 20,000 constituents, and $1,200 for postage, which brings the items to a total of $13,400. The remainder, which consisted of $2,367 for radio recordings,, $2,069 for stationery, and $820 for extra office staff, makes a total of more than $18,000, and these items could have been paid for out of the funds of the chairman of a committee or subcommittee of the Senate if Mr. Nixon had chosen to work himself into such a post. For the committee and subcommittee chairmen in Congress have considerable funds to use for radio recordings and speeches and for travel and extra office help. Items like these are often paid for out of taxpayers' money. Thus, a Chistmas-greeting letter could start out by stating that the senator in the new year ahead was at the service of his constituents for any information needed from government departments and outling further any data that might be given the taxpayer but winding up with a special Christmas and New Year greeting. Such a letter can ride postage free and many of them are sent out annually by members of Congress to their constituents.

Amount Was Limited

The sponsors of the Nixon fund were told in a letter from Dana Smith dated September 25, 1951, about every important item for which the money solicited would be used, including the cost of sending Christmas cards "to the people who worked in his (the senator's) campaign or contributed financially to it. Much to our surprise we find that this group numbers 20,000."

In that same letter, Mr. Smith explicitly informed every prospec-

Soviet All-Union Congress

International observers will pay special attention to the address of Deputy Premier Malenkov at the general congress of the Soviet All-Union Communist party, scheduled to open in Moscow on October 5. Malenkov will be giving the report of the Central Committee of the party, thus playing a role in which Premier Stalin has heretofore been cast. Stalin read the organizational report in 1923 and 1924, the political report in 1925, 1927, and 1930, and the report of the Central Committee in 1934 and 1939.

Selection of Malenkov to give the report does not necessarily mean that he is being groomed to succeed Stalin, who will be 73 in December. It is true that Malenkov has the ranking position on the Central Commitee's Secretariat next to Stalin. Malenkov is also a member of both the Politburo, which makes policy for Russian and world communism, and the Orgburo, charged with "the general direction of organization work." But so is Deputy Premier Molotov, generally considered Malenkov's chief rival for the power that is Stalin's.

Malenkov's principal Politburo ally, himself occasionally mentioned as heir for Stalin, is Lavrenti Beria, commissar for internal affairs and thus commander of the feared secret police. Aligned with Molotov is Marshal Bulganin, considered to represent the political interests of the armed services.

Apart from speculation on the succession in the Communist hierarchy, which may indeed be smoothed out at the congress, the interest in Malenkov's speech will center on what he has to say about international affairs. It was a similar speech of Stalin at the last previous party congress—in March 1939—that gave the world the first hint of the possibility of a German-Russian accord such as that which was concluded in August of that year.

Stalin's speech on that occasion noticeably lacked invective against Germany and Japan, though those two aggressor nations had already been linked in an anti-Comintern treaty. The press of the Western democracies, according to Stalin, had been trying to "arouse the fury of the Soviet Union against Germany to poison the atmosphere and provoke a conflict without apparent cause."

In the non-intervention policy of Great Britain, France, and the United States, Stalin charged in 1939, was "revealed the desire not to interfere with and prevent aggressors from committing their black deeds —not to prevent Japan, for instance, from getting tied up in a war with China, still better, with the USSR; not to prevent Germany, for instance, from getting stuck in European affairs or getting tied up in war with the Soviet Union—but to let war participants get tied up deeply in war, to encourage them in this silently, to let them grow weak and exhaust each other, and later on, when they are sufficiently weak, to enter upon the scene with fresh strength—but, of course, 'in the interests of peace'—and dictate to the weakened participants in war on their own conditions. Both cheaply and sweetly."

Stalin's 1939 speech started a brief flurry of rumors of a rapprochement between Germany and Russia. Post-World War II investigations have disclosed that German diplomats acted on Stalin's hints, asked what he meant by them, and entered into the negotiations that brought about the August 1939 pact.

In addition to hearing party leaders, delegates to the forthcoming Congress will adopt a new five-year plan—already announced and in operation—adopt new rules on party membership and discipline, and merge the Politburo and Orgburo into a new Presidium of the Central Committee. Also the Central Committee will have to be reconstituted, for at least 17 members have died since 1939, and 52 others have "dropped from prominence."

North Pole? Ho Hum

Part of a press tour staged by the Air Force to the great new air base at Thule, in northwestern Greenland, was a trip to the North Pole. Newsmen were loaded into a heated, pressurized C-54, which rose smoothly from the new landing strip at this northernmost base and headed north.

Correspondents were told they had four hours and more of sitting to do before the Pole would be reached and were urged to make themselves comfortable.

As they neared their objective, the navigator began to toll the rising latitudes, the Pole, of course, being latitude 90. Generations who read of the agonies suffered by Admiral Robert Peary nearly a half century ago in his trek to the Pole afoot and by dog sled might have expected some suspenseful prose to come out of this first press junket.

Here was a navigational pinpoint which people have come to use as a comparative for the unapproachable.

Apparently the newsmen tried their best, but circumstances were rigged against them. Most of them were hardly awake after hours of the comfortable drone of the engines and the monotonous icescape. The instant of passage over the Pole barely made a dent in a tense bridge game.

The trouble was, it was routine in the most monotonous sense of the word. More enthusiasm was shown in the filed dispatches for a steak dinner that was served after the plane turned back toward Thule.

In other times and other circumstances there would probably have been a different spirit about the whole incident. If the newsmen had footed it the last 50 miles, they would have appreciated the accomplishment. But polar flights are now old stuff.

Tremor And Rigid Muscles

In Parkinson's disease (shaking palsy, paralysis agitans, or parkinsonism), certain vessels of the brain are hardened as a result of the aging process. As longevity increases, more and more persons can be expected to reach the age when the condition develops; consequently the number of cases is on the rise. But our scientists are keeping pace so that today the physician can select a remedy from the variety available.

True Parkinson's is more common in men and most victims are between 50 and 70 years of age. It begins so insidiously that the majority are unable to recall when the condition started. Early signs are slight stiffness of the arms and legs, muscular weakness, and infrequent eye blinking. Later, there is a rhythmic pill-rolling tremor of the hands and often constant nodding of the head. Stiffness and rigidity of the muscles leads to palsy and those in the head, neck, back, and extremities are favored. Tightening of the facial muscles smooths out the natural wrinkles, producing an emotionless, mask-like expression which is accentuated by the apparent staring of the eyes.

The disease progresses slowly and after many years the trunk bends forward and the body seems to move as a whole so that in turning it shifts to the left or right. Movements are slow and the gait is shuffling, with short steps. Hand tremors are coarse and usually are made worse by emotional upsets but shaking stops temporarily during voluntary movements. In time the voice becomes hesitant and monotonous. Occasionally these individuals are labeled stutterers; some cannot utter a word. Involvement of the respiratory muscles may produce snorting or grunting sounds. The skin is unusually oily and perspiration is profuse.

There is no cure yet much can be done to arrest the progress of the condition and alleviate symptoms. Many of the remedies are directed against muscular rigidity and they include hyoscine, artane, caramiphen, hydrochloride, myanesin, benadryd, and W-483 (called lysivane by the British). Some of these compounds work better than others but when the patient responds there is improvement in voice, posture, walk, tremor, and facial expression.

The over-all picture deserves consideration. These patients ought to be encouraged to help themselves by performing tasks in keeping with their abilities. Drugs that combat lassitude have a tonic influence and may mean the difference between helplessness and activity. Artane is said to have this effect by producing some mental stimulation; the victim becomes more lively, cheerful, and energetic. Combinations of the various drugs often are more effective than one.

The Parkinson syndrome also may follow diseases such as influenza and encephalitis. This phenomenon was first noted after the 1918 epidemic of the flu. Other cases are on a toxic basis and have been traced to poisoning from carbon monoxide and various metals.

WINKING

W. P. writes: A nerve on the right side of my face twitches, which makes me look like I'm winking all the time. I'm very sensitive about it and when I'm around people it gets worse. Is this disorder curable?

REPLY

This sounds like a tic and twitching is caused by muscular contractions as a result of nerve stimulation. The condition is difficult to cure, even by a neurologist who specializes in nerve disturbances.

FEARS LARYNGOSCOPE

A. R. writes: A year ago I was given a laryngoscopic examination, which was extremely painful. I told my mother then I would never go through with it again as long as I live. My parents keep telling me I'm too young to realize how important it is that my larynx be examined in this way because of polyps on the vocal cords and hoarseness. Rather than go through it again I rested my voice for one solid month but this didnt' help.

REPLY

Your fear may stem from the fact that the anesthetic was not complete the first time. Why not discuss the whole subject with your physician so that the next time you have it the procedure will be painless?

INSECTS AND ALLERGY

P. L. writes: Can insects cause allergy?

REPLY

No, but many individuals are allergic to the bites of such insects as chiggers, mosquitoes, fleas, bedbugs, moths, caterpillars, bees, and wasps. It is for this reason that the antihistaminics are of value. In severe reactions, adrenalin, ACTH, or cortisone are needed.

Republicans At Odds Over Money For Ike's Spot Announcements; Nixon Snubs Oklahoma Editors; Hagerty May Be Eased Out As Press Aide

WASHINGTON — After General Eisenhower spent two days at a New York film studio recording radio and TV "spots" for the windup of his campaign, the Republican high command is at odds regarding their use. More specifically, they are at odds on how to raise the money to buy the radio and TV time for their use.

The subject came up at a meeting of top GOP money-raisers in New York recently, at which Lloyd Dalzell, dynamic, young tugboat operator, offered to raise $600,000 to $800,000.

"I will raise the money, but only to be used for the general's spot announcements," he said.

However, others were skeptical; not over Dalzell's ability to raise money, but over the same issue which has caused friction inside the Republican party in the past—local leadership vs. national leadership.

Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank and brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, was afraid that Dalzell's money-raising would conflict with local money-raising. He feared he would tap the same moneyed people that local leaders will have to tap. Others agreed. Even if the national ticket should lose, they argued, Republican organizations must be kept strong locally and local tickets must be elected.

Jock Whitney, who once served in the Roosevelt administration and married Jimmie Roosevelt's ex-wife, took the opposite view. He felt nothing was more important than raising money for the spot radio and TV time.

These consist of radio recordings and TV kinescopes in which Eisenhower answers current political questions. They are to be used in the last three weeks of the campaign "saturate" key states in the East and Midwest, which Truman carried in 1948 by only a narrow margin.

This idea was evolved by Rosser Reeves, ace advertising specialist for the Ted Bates agency. Co-operating with him was Mike Levin of the Edwin-Wasey Agency. Later Fred Rudge of Fisher, Rudge & Neblett came in.

NOTE—Presiding over the finance meeting was Sidney Weinberg, head of the giant banking house of Goldman-Sachs. Born in Russia, brought up in Brooklyn, Weinberg is a director of more corporations than he can recite himself, got to know Gen. Lucius Clay during World War II days in Washington, later got Clay his job with Continental Can. It was through Clay that Weinberg got on the Eisenhower bandwagon.

Nixon's Press

Dynamic Dick, the GOP vice presidential hopeful, can certainly rub newspaper editors and publishers the wrong way.

Commented Wheeler Mayo, publisher of the Sallisaw Times and Claremore Daily Progress:

"Never in my 20 years of owning and operating newspapers and as past president of the Oklahoma Press Association have I witnessed the snubbing that Nixon gave the press.

"Oklahoma editors were called by special invitation for the specific purpose of attending a question-and-answer conference. It was a fiasco.

"Editors found that they had been called to a stacked meeting to witness and be impressed by a 15-minute glamour-boy show in which Nixon acted three parts—his own moderator, interrogator and the answerer of his own questions.

"His refusal to answer questions, in contrast with Sparkman's give-and-take of the day before, made Nixon look silly."

NOTE—The point most newsmen and the public want Nixon to explain is how he paid $20,000 down on his Washington house, while also buying a house in California, after his wife wrote in the Saturday Eveing Post that they sometimes didn't have enough money to buy postage.

Ike's Press

Jim Hagerty, press aide to Eisenhower and one of the best in the business, may be eased out. He's been the subject of considerable private debate among the general's advisers, so much so that John Foster Dulles, a good friend of both Ike and Governor Dewey, has been in touch with Dewey regarding the situation.

Hagerty is a veteran of many Presidential campaigns, having been righthand man to Governor Dewey. He is popular with newsmen, but has one handicap — the general doesn't know his well. And the general doesn't feel comfortable with people he hasn't known a long time.

For one thing, Hagerty can't get in to see him on important questions which should be given the press without delay. Eisenhower's friends keep a tight wall around him, anxious to conserve his strength.

The man who would take Hagerty's place, if he leaves, is Maj. Gen. Wilton G. Persons, an old friend of Ike's, who is an expert at getting along with people in tight places. During part of the war he was the Army's top lobbyist on Capitol Hill, had the job of smoothing the ruffled fur of congressmen.

Protestants Suppressed

Following the lead of Spain and Colombia, Peron's dictatorship in Argentina has now started cracking down in freedom of worship. It is doing this by revoking the preaching permits of Protestant pastors on trumped-up political charges.

Rev. Julio N. Sabanes, Uruguayan minister of the Central Methodist Church in Buenos Aires, and Rev. Angel Sainz, an Argentine pastor of the United Protestant Church at the fashionable seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, were both notified by the Peron government a few days ago that they would no longer be permitted to conduct services.

Significantly, the charge sounded like the pretexts of Communist regimes to eliminate independent religions.

The two Protestant pastors were formally accused by the Argentine Ministry of Foreign Relations and Worship with having denounced the high cost of living.

The Negro Vote

Prior to the Civil War, the Negro problem was limited to the South, in the sense that the Negro population was concentrated there. In the North, there was an intellectual and emotional repsonse to the institution of slavery. The war was ostensibly fought over the constitutional issue of state sovereignty and the right of a state to secede from the union. The realistic issue was a struggle between North and South over conflicting economic systems.

In 1952, the Negro problem is universal in the United States because whereas in the South, it again raises the constitutional question of the sovereignty of each state in the union, in the North and West, it involves the political control of each state.

In the following states, the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties ran five per cent or under in 1948: New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois Wisconsin, Iowa, South Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, California and Nevada.

In those states, therefore, the shave was close and the parties would normally regard any group that might vote as a bloc as tremendously important, quite apart from any question of right or wrong.

In some of these states, the Negro population runs higher than the difference between the parties in the 1948 vote. For instance, in New York State, which Dewey carried by the tip of his nose, under one per cent, the Negroes constitute over six per cent of the population. Even granting that they will not all vote as Negroes, the figures stir politicians to regard the Negro as a balance in the election. In New York City, such a balance of power can actually be established in the voting statistics during recent years, particularly if to the Negro vote is added the Puerto Rican vote.

In a state like Maryland, where the difference between the two parties ran just over one per cent, the Negro population runs close to 17 per cent. Similar situations exist in Delaware, Illinois, and Michigan.

Before Franklin D. Roosevelt, what is generally called the Negro vote was Republican. It was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, David Niles and Fiorello LaGuardia who specialized in services for the Negro. It is true that Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Irving Ives realized the enormity of the competition. They put the New York FEPC through the legislature and started that ball rolling. It won for them personal popularity among the Negroes, which, however, has not passed from those individuals to the Republican party.

President Harry Truman, although of Southern predilections, recognized the value of the Northern Negro to the Democratic party. He went further than Roosevelt in cultivating the Negro. On the issue of FEPC, which he calls civil rights, he split his party, risking the ire and opposition of the Southern Democrats. Nothing in Truman's career to his Presidency indicates any particular love for the Negro. As a politician, in office, he recognized a bonanza when he saw it. Of Roosevelt's entourage, the only person that he retained was David Niles, who had handled the so-called minorities for Roosevelt. Niles was a Harry Hopkins protege and was equally cynical and opportunistic.

In this article, there is no discussion of general principles, of right or wrong, of any philosophy of life. Here, only political mechanics is being considered. The decision of both political parties is to seek to gain and hold the Northern Negro vote in critical states at any cost and to make any sacrifices necessary for it. The Democrats have renounced the history of their party, basic principles of States Rights, and have undoubtedly destroyed the Solid South as a political entity. The Republicans cannot match that, but they are hoping that they can wean the Negro back to their bosom.

Where differences between the parties in 1948 were only one or two per cent, a slight shift in the Negro vote may change the entire election.

The Negro is the only large group of voters who is still regarded as voting racially. The Jewish vote hardly exists: it will be found in 1952 that the districts in which Jews prevail will not be different from districts in the same city where Jews are scarce. The so-called German vote does not exist. The labor vote was wholly disproved in the Taft campaign in Ohio in 1950.

Politicians like bloc voting, when they can get it, un-American as it is.

The Politics Of Confusion

ST. LOUIS

It is amusing, and sometimes rather revealing, to try in the imagination to explain an American political situation, like that here in Missouri, to a European visitor.

W. Stuart Symington, formerly President Truman's secertary of the Air Force, is the Democratic candidate for the Senate here. He won the nomination over the public opposition of the President.

("Then, of course, Mr. Symington is opposing the Truman administration?" "No, certainly not. You're getting it all wrong.")

Symington is a close friend of the Republican candidate for President, Dwight D. Eisenhower. He deeply admires Eisenhower, and has consistently supported the international policies for which Eisenhower stands.

("Then naturally Mr. Symington wishes that Gen. Eisenhower will be elected?" "Heavens no. He is strongly supporting Eisenhower's opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.")

Throughout his Senate service, the Republican incumbent, Sen. James P. Kem, has bitterly and consistently opposed just about everything Gen. Eisenhower stands for. Kem even voted against the North Atlantic Treaty.

("Then, one assumes, Kem is opposing Eisenhower and Eisenhower is opposing Kem?" "Don't be silly. When Eisenhower was in St. Louis some days ago, he roundly endorsed Sen. Kem, and Sen. Kem is, as we say in this country, hanging on to Eisenhower's coat-tails for dear life.")

Nothing In Common

At this point, the imaginary European visitor is presumably cross-eyed with confusion, yet the situation described above (which is of course perfecty clear and simple to any American) is nevertheless interesting, in that it is typical of a peculiar phenomenon of this campaign. Like a number of other Republican candidates of the famous "class of 1946" (Sen. William Jenner of Indiana, for example, or Harry Cain of Washington) Sen. Kem's hopes for re-election are squarely based on two premises.

The first is that the immensely popular Eisenhower will sweep the country, and sweep Kem back into the Senate in the process. Kem is therefore seizing every possible opportunity to identify himself with Eisenhower—with whom, of course, he has virtually nothing in common.

The second premise is that the voters can also be rendered cross-eyed with confusion, so that they will conveniently forget Kem's voting record. Kem has therefore attacked Symington on so many fronts that the unfortunate Symington, who has never before had first-hand experience of an election, sometimes seems a trifle punch-drunk.

One can hardly blame him. It must be an unpleasant experience for a man of hitherto distinguished reputation to find himself simultaneously pictured as a blood-soaked war profiteer, a "golf-playing crony of Communists," and the chosen agent of British international bankers. These three charges against Symington provide typical examples of a political technique which is now widely practiced. The object of this technique is simply to confuse the voters, to raise "the big doubt" in their minds.

Kem And McCarthy

Symington soid his stock in the Emerson Electric Company, of which he had been president, when he entered public office. He did so in order to avoid charges of favoring his old company. But the stock had increased in value during Symington's term as president of the company—and so Symington is a war profiteer.

Symington is a crony of Communists, as well as blood-soaked capitalist, because a Communist, one William Sentner, once headed the Emerson union local. Symington of course never played golf with Sentner. But, as president of Emercon Electric, he did deal with Sentner on labor matters. Legally, he had no choice. Such fine points, however, do not concern Sen. Kem, and they are not likely to concern Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, whom Kem has invited to campaign for him in Missouri.

Symington is a stooge of British international bankers because he once rented a house from a British banker, one Sir William Wiseman. Wiseman is supposed to have selected Symington as his chosen instrument to "punish" Kem for his "pro-American" record. Actually, Symington never laid eyes on this "sinister figure."

This is enough to suggest the nature of Sen. Kem's special political technique. The whole business is amusing enough in some ways, what with Kem's remarkable agility in the attack, and the dazed condition of the novice Symington. But, as Symington says, "Win, lose, or draw, I'm through—this is the last time I run for anything."

If the sort of thing described above becomes accepted practice in American politics, it will soon be impossible to persuade men of reputation and principle to run for public office. And this is not amusing.

Fortunately — and fortunately especially for Gen. Eisenhower, if he is elected — knowledgeable observers here believe that all Kem's frantic agility will do him little good in November. They believe that the popular Eisenhower has a slim, fighting chance to carry normally Democratic Missouri. But they also believe that when it comes to Kem, the pro-Eisenhower voters will split their ticket. This suggests that the voters may be smarter than politicians like Kem think they are.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This campaign has already set a record in one respect—it's the first time a vice presidential nominee has become widely known. Judging by the mail and telegrams received by the Republican National Committee, more persons know Senator Richard M. Nixon than ever before knew a vice presidential nominee.

As for the big crowds which are assembling to hear Senator Nixon everywhere, he probably holds the record for attendance at meetings addressed by any vice presidential nominee in recent years.

Senator Nixon has been here a few days and naturally the reporters have been asking him for further details which here and there some critics are saying were omitted from his nation-wide television and radio speech or were not fully understood. The senator has decided not to discuss the matter for quotation any further, because he feels it has resolved itself now into a smokescreen designed to divert attention from the main issues of the campaign.

This correspondent has obtained the following information bearing on various questions asked since the historic telecast:

Others Have Comparable Homes

1. How did the senator accumulate the $20,000 for the down payment on his house? The answer is this: By a careful reading of the speech it will be found that the senator and his wife had $10,000 saved before he was elected to Congress. His speech revealed that he and his wife inherited $4,500. He also stated that he averaged $1,500 a year from speaking or about $7,500 in five years. This totals more than the $20,000 needed for the down payment. Incidentally, a number of senators own homes of comparable worth in the same neighborhood.

2. Why did an article in the "Saturday Evening Post" quote Mrs. Nixon last summer as saying, "We were broke and didn't have enough money for postage stamps"? This refers to the first Nixon campaign for Congress, which indeed was without adequate funds.

3. Why didn't the senator give out his income tax returns? The answer is that the Treasury Department has them on file now and, if there were the slightest discrepancy between the statement in his speech as to the only sources of income and anything reported in his income tax, that fact could surely become known to the administration. To put it another way, nobody thinks anyone like Senator Nixon would ever venture to make a public statement of his sources of income and fail to include any that had been reported on his income tax return. So the senator is said to have felt any disclosure of the text of his income tax return would be superfluous.

4. Why did Senator Nixon say in his speech: "Every penny of it (the fund) was used to pay for political expenses that I did not think should be charged to the taxpayers of the United States"? The answer is this: The main items for which the certified public accounting firm revealed the $18,000 fund had been spent could have been paid for by money received in various ways, such as putting one's wife on the Senate office payroll for $8,000, using the "frank" or free postage system to take care of about $4,200 in Christmas greetings to 20,000 constituents, and $1,200 for postage, which brings the items to a total of $13,400. The remainder, which consisted of $2,367 for radio recordings, $2,069 for stationery, and $820 for extra office staff, makes a total of more than $18,000, and these items could have been paid for out of the funds of the chairman of a committee or subcommittee of the Senate if Mr. Nixon had chosen to work himself into such a post. For the committee and subcommittee chairmen in Congress have considerable funds to use for radio recordings and speeches and for travel and extra office help. Items like these are often paid for out of taxpayers' money. Thus, a Chistmas-greeting letter could start out by stating that the senator in the new year ahead was at the service of his constituents for any information needed from government departments and outling further any data that might be given the taxpayer but winding up with a special Christmas and New Year greeting. Such a letter can ride postage free and many of them are sent out annually by members of Congress to their constituents.

Amount Was Limited

The sponsors of the Nixon fund were told in a letter from Dana Smith dated September 25, 1951, about every important item for which the money solicited would be used, including the cost of sending Christmas cards "to the people who worked in his (the senator's) campaign or contributed financially to it. Much to our surprise we find that this group numbers 20,000."

In that same letter, Mr. Smith explicitly informed every prospec-

Three Suits Filed In Garrett Are Removed To Local Court

Three suits filed in Garrett County Circuit Court have been removed to Allegany County Circuit Court for trial during the October term that begins here Monday.

One of the suits, a $5,000 damage case, was docketed by a Barton man, Thomas E. Davis, against John Spear of Friendsville.

Through his attorney, Edward J. Ryan, the plaintiff declares he was driving toward Oakland on Route 219 near Keyser's Ridge on November 8 while the defendant's auto was coming in the opposite direction.

Davis charges Spear turned his auto into the path of the plaintiff's car, causing a collision by failing to give the right-of-way.

Davis states damage to his auto amounted to $295, but he adds he still is suffering from a back injury received in the crash. Spear is represented by W. Earle Cobey.

In another case, Clyde E. Bowman and Evelyn M. Bowman, are sueing Emma E. Beachy, widow, and Joel A. Beachy, trading as Meyers Coal Company, Grantsville.

The Bowmans declare two parcels of land were conveyed to the Beachys through deeds filed in Oakland March 24, 1944, and June 4, 1946, in which the defendants allegedly agreed to pay $100 for each acre of coal mined.

The plaintiff's charge 2.3 acres of coal have been mined and the defendants have refused to arbitrate or pay. Through their attorney, William L. Wilson, the Bowmans seek $300.

Another suit involves Alex George against Ariel George, administratrix of the estate of Emory George, and Ariel George, individually.

Alex George, represented by Edward J. Ryan, is seeking $400 which he claims is allegedly due on a note to Emory and Airel George. Ariel George, through her attorneys, Jones and Jones of Oakland, denies any money is due on the note.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

ENTRY REMOVING FIGHT

PLAY for a No Trump game is frequently an entry-removing fight. Sound tactics call for extracting the re-entry for the other side's suit before it can take your own last stopper of the suit away from you. If you fail to concentrate on that crucial factor of certain deals, you are destined to come to grief. The trouble with many a player of No Trump hands—on both offense and defense—is that his mind is mainly on developing tricks for his own side without regard to limiting his opponents.

	♠ 97 ♥ K Q J 3 ♦ A 5 4 ♣ A J 9 4
♠ 10 8 6 4 3 ♥ A 6 ♦ J 7 3 ♣ K Q 5	N W E S	♠ Q J ♥ 9 8 7 4 ♦ Q 10 6 ♣ 8 7 3 2
	♠ A K 5 2 ♥ 10 5 2 ♦ K 9 8 2 ♣ 10 6

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Dbl.
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	3 NT

South might have passed the double if vulnerability had been reversed, but would have regretted it if he managed to beat West's 1-Spade only a single trick. With his own side vulnerable and the opponents not, and holding almost an opening bid hand opposite North's double, he was right in showing strength with his 3-Diamonds. The contract he reached should have given him a nice vulnerable game to close out the rubber. But, alas, it did not.

West's spade 4 lead to the J gave South the first trick with the A. He led the club 10, on which West split honors, playing the Q, which the A won. The heart 3 was led to the 10 and A, and West returned the spade 3 to the Q, which the K won. That thoughtless play beat South. He could have read East as now out of suit and West with three more, so that East would have had to shift suits if he got that trick. After it South scored three hearts plus the diamond A and K. When he then led the club 6, West won with the K and followed with three spade tricks to beat the contract.

If South had let East take the second spade trick, that defender could not have removed South's last spade stopper. When West later scored with the club K, he would have found South still holding the spade K. Consequently South could have scored his game.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K Q 9 4 ♥ A 8 3 ♦ 7 5 3 ♣ 10 6 5
♠ 8 6 2 ♥ 7 4 ♦ A Q J 6 2 ♣ A Q J	N W E S	♠ 10 7 3 ♥ J 9 6 5 2 ♦ 10 8 4 ♣ 9 8
	♠ A J 5 ♥ K Q 10 ♦ K 9 ♣ K 7 4 3 2

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

If South, seeking 3-No Trumps, takes the diamond Q with the K and then runs seven more tricks in spades and hearts, how can West's discards decide the fate of the contract?

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

ENTRY REMOVING FIGHT

PLAY for a No Trump game is frequently an entry-removing fight. Sound tactics call for extracting the re-entry for the other side's suit before it can take your own last stopper of the suit away from you. If you fail to concentrate on that crucial factor of certain deals, you are destined to come to grief. The trouble with many a player of No Trump hands—on both offense and defense—is that his mind is mainly on developing tricks for his own side without regard to limiting his opponents.

	♠ 97 ♥ K Q J 3 ♦ A 5 4 ♣ A J 9 4
♠ 10 8 6 4 3 ♥ A 6 ♦ J 7 3 ♣ K Q 5	N W E S	♠ Q J ♥ 9 8 7 4 ♦ Q 10 6 ♣ 8 7 3 2
	♠ A K 5 2 ♥ 10 5 2 ♦ K 9 8 2 ♣ 10 6

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Dbl.
Pass	3 NT

South might have passed the double if vulnerability had been reversed, but would have regretted it if he managed to beat West's 1-Spade only a single trick. With his own side vulnerable and the opponents not, and holding almost an opening bid hand opposite North's double, he was right in showing strength with his 3-Diamonds. The contract he reached should have given him a nice vulnerable game to close out the rubber. But, alas, it did not.

West's spade 4 lead to the J gave South the first trick with the A. He led the club 10, on which West split honors, playing the Q, which the A won. The heart 3 was led to the 10 and A, and West returned the spade 3 to the Q, which the K won. That thoughtless play beat South. He could have read East as now out of suit and West with three more, so that East would have had to shift suits if he got that trick. After it South scored three hearts plus the diamond A and K. When he then led the club 6, West won with the K and followed with three spade tricks to beat the contract.

If South had let East take the second spade trick, that defender could not have removed South's last spade stopper. When West later scored with the club K, he would have found South still holding the spade K. Consequently South could have scored his game.

* * *

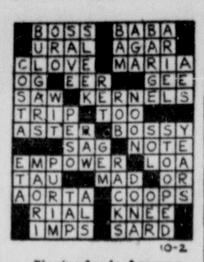

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K Q 9 4 ♥ A 8 3 ♦ 7 5 3 ♣ 10 6 5
♠ 8 6 2 ♥ 7 4 ♦ A Q J 6 2 ♣ A Q J	N W E S	♠ 10 7 3 ♥ J 9 6 5 2 ♦ 10 8 4 ♣ 9 8
	♠ A J 5 ♥ K Q 10 ♦ K 9 ♣ K 7 4 3 2

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

If South, seeking 3-No Trumps, takes the diamond Q with the K and then runs seven more tricks in spades and hearts, how can West's discards decide the fate of the contract?

Do you throw your shoulders back for posture's sake? You shouldn't! Here's the right carriage.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Only the most foolhardy would attempt to drive a car without first learning as much as possible about how to run it. Yet the majority blithely breeze through life with, at best, with only the slimmest knowledge of how to use the human body and therefore suffer the inevitable result: a crack-up in health and beauty.

Your health and beauty are apt to start to crumble in just little ways, one compounding another, until suddenly your massive misuse results in massive ruin. Then, of course, you become aware of your faults in most acute fashion.

Your shoulder Line

Consider the matter of how to carry your shoulders. (If you err in this, good posture is impossible; your figure will sprout faults and your health will suffer.) Of all the erroneous instructions bandied about on this subject, the one that is surest to cause trouble is to "throw your shoulders back—back as far as possible." That is not only wrong but sure to lead to postural difficulties.

Here's a test that will prove it: Stand in profile beside a mirror and pull your shoulders back as far as you can. Note how tense and awkward you look with arms hanging behind instead of alongside your body, shoulder blades crowding each other and your head jutting forward. Besides being ungainly, this position leads to a serious sway back or lordosis.

Now rotate your shoulders forward and try to touch your ears. Hold for a moment, let them droop relaxed and inspect this new position. Does your s houlder joint, where your arm hinges to the body, fall slightly forward while your upper back lies flat? If so, you can be sure you'll never have round shoulders if you make this your habital posture. This is the only natural and correct position for your shoulders.

But, if your upper back is rounded like a big C, you are afflicted with a true round-shouldered condition, stemming from hunching tactics. Perform this corrective exercise daily and your shoulders will assume the position described in the above paragraph:

Future Security

Sit on the floor with your back against a wall, arms extending in front of you at shoulder level. Starting with the head, curl your spine until you can touch your ankles with your finger tips. Then gradually uncurl from the bottom of your spine trying to make every section of your back lie flat against the wall as you return to starting position.

Where beauty and health are concerned, a little learning is always a dangerous thing. Seek out the truth and you'll secure your future!

Feed Prices Too High . . . Farmers Take Action— Slash Southern States Prices!

Farmers are squeezed by feed prices that are too high in relation to prices received for meat, milk and eggs. The farmers who own and use Southern States Cooperative—272,000 strong—are doing something about it.

Southern States Cooperative has made a sharp reduction in its mixed feed prices—is pricing them at less than actual cost.

Southern States Service Agencies, working hand in hand with the farmers they serve, have reduced their handling margins to approximate actual cost. The result is a reduction of $4.00 to $5.00 per ton (20 to 25 cents per bag) in Southern States feeds which were already low in price as compared with commercial feed of comparable quality.

This program of self-help by farmers will continue until it forces the price of commercial formula feeds to a more reasonable level from the standpoint of farmers. A big crop of corn and other feed grains will soon be pressing on the market. This also should help.

Support this cooperative effort to pull down the too high price level on mixed feeds—save real money too by using quality feeds cooperatively manufactured by farmers in their own mills. See us for details. You'll be amazed at the new low Southern States feed prices.

The result is a reduction of $4.00 to $5.00 per ton (20 to 25 cents per bag) in Southern States feeds which were already low in price as compared with commercial feed of comparable quality.

This program of self-help by farmers will continue until it forces the price of commercial formula feeds to a more reasonable level from the standpoint of farmers. A big crop of corn and other feed grains will soon be pressing on the market. This also should help.

Support this cooperative effort to pull down the too high price level on mixed feeds—save real money too by using quality feeds cooperatively manufactured by farmers in their own mills. See us for details. You'll be amazed at the new low Southern States feed prices.

Local Bakery's Product To Be Sold Nationally

A Cumberland product will soon be distributed nationally, with a local plant furnishing the basic ingredients.

Lewis J. Ort, of LaVale, announced yesterday Bakers Research Bureau, 250 Park Avenue, New York, has signed a contract with him for the syndication rights nationally for Ort's White Diet Bread.

The new low calorie, high protein bread was developed by Ort with the assistance of his brother, Harry Ort, and since January 1 has been made at Ort Brothers Bakery here.

The White Diet Bread will be publicized nationally by Bakers Research Bureau in a campaign starting the middle of November that will feature Gloria Swanson, one of the nation's most attractive grandmothers, Ort stated.

Already, Bakers Research Bureau has effected a contract for White Diet Bread to be marketed by one of the country's largest chain bakeries, Ort reported.

Of benefit to Cumberland will be the fact that all of the dry mix will be made in the local plant of Ort Brothers Bakery.

Ort stated that national acceptance of this bread, of which he is most optimistic, will mean increased employment here in the manufacture of the dry mix.

Bakers Research Bureau is the same firm that is syndicating "Twin Pack" and "Howdy Doody."

Ort said after White Diet Bread was introduced here the first of the year Bakers Research Bureau sent experts to this area to check the sales of this new product, which became outstanding almost immediately.

The idea of a high protein, low calorie content bread was originated by Ort several years ago. This meant the bread had to be made with no sugar and no shortening. Bakers state it is difficult to combine elements making this type of bread.

Ort and his brother, both officials in Ort Brothers Bakery, went to duPont for sacryl, a non-nutritive sweetening agent. The University of Maryland from time to time ran tests on the experimental doughs checking the calorie and protein content.

Finally, after much experimentation, the dough sought by the Orts was found, Ort revealed.

Jews To Mark Feast Of Succos

The Jewish Festival of Succos known also as the Feast of Ingathering and the season of joy upon which early Pilgrims based the holiday of Thanksgiving, will be observed by Beth Jacob Congregation this weekend.

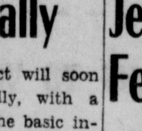

Services will be held tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p. m.; and Saturday and Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

A booth or Tabernacle has been built adjacent to the synagogue with all the harvest symbols and fruit by members of the Women's League. The booth or Succah commemorates the time when children of Israel dwelt in these booths in their wanderings in the desert of Sinai. It is also a reminder of the booths erected in the field of Israel by farmers during harvest time.

Rabbi J. Schimelman will speak Friday on "Religion — A Way of Life or Escapism."

Members of the Women's League in charge of decorations are Mrs. Helen Kauffman, Mrs. Alice Sack, Mrs. Bernice Friedland and Miss Millie Bobrow.

Outside groups interested in viewing the Succah or Booth may do so by calling Rabbi Schimelman. A film strip on the holiday is also available.

PIN-WORMS GO! Jayne's P-W Gets Real Results
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

PIN-WORMS GO! Jayne's P-W Gets Real Results
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Dodger Homers Sink Yankees In First Series Game, 4-2

Reese, Snider And Robinson Belt 4-Basers

Brooklyn Fielding Is Spectacular As Black Tops Reynolds

By JACK HAND

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Joe Black, a rookie relief pitcher turned starter in a "shoot the works" gamble by Manager Chuck Dressen, mastered the ever-winning New York Yankee today, 4-2, while the booming home run bats of Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese brought Brooklyn the opening day victory in the 1952 World Series.

JACKIE ROBINSON PEE WEE REESE

DUKE SNIDER GIL McDOUGALD

Sensational fielding by Andy Pafko, Bill Cox, Carl Furillo and Robinson helped the 28-year-old Negro from Plainfield, N. J., over the rough spots.

Snider Belts Payoff Homer

Snider's tremendous two-run blast in the sixth, sailing a high arc over the shiny electric clock atop the right field scoreboard, was the payoff in this contest watched by 34,861, a series record for Ebbets Field.

By whipping Allie Reynolds, the Yankee ace, in the opener, the Brooks took a giant stride toward their goal of bringing a world championship to Brooklyn after five misses.

Defense, as much as the home runs, told the story of this well-played thriller. The Dodgers, who tied a National League fielding record in the regular season, were all over the place. Furillo's whip arm discouraged Phil Rizzuto from trying to score from third in the fourth. Pafko cut down an over-ambitious Gil McDougald going from first to third in the fifth. Pafko also made a sliding grab of Hank Bauer's drooping fly for the final out in the fifth.

Despite the dazzling defense, Black was struggling all the way until Snider smashed that block-buster some 400 feet into Bedford Avenue.

Spectator Grabs Ball

It was a 1-1 tie when Snider stepped up in the sixth. Robinson's second-inning belt on a 3-2 pitch into the lower left field stands had been balanced by McDougald's home run in the third.

McDougald's homer just made it into the hands of a spectator in the first row of lower left field seats. Pafko made a leaping stab but lost out to the fan. Foul-line umpire Dusty Boggess ruled it a legitimate home run.

The break came without warning in the sixth. Reynolds, the 34-year-old Yankee super chief, seemed to have settled down after a wild start. Still he was missing the corners with his curve.

Black, who saw only nine pitches —all strikes—during his three brief stays at the plate, was called out to open the sixth. Cox fouled to Yogi Berra. Reese singled to right and took second when Reynold's pitched wild.

With the count 2-1 on him, Snider sent a Reynolds pitch high and far over the scoreboard to break the deadlock.

Woodling Hits Triple

The Yanks got one run back in the eighth when Gene Woodling, out of the starting lineup because of a groin injury, hit the screen in right-center for a pinch-hit triple. Bauer's fly ball scored Woodling, cutting the gap to one run.

Then Reese, up with two out and nobody on in the eighth, lined his home run into the left field seats off relief pitcher Ray Scarborough. He was the first Dodger ever to hit two homers in series competition. Pee Wee's first came in the 1949 series against the Yanks.

Both managers already had announced their pitchers for tomorrow's game at Ebbets Field. It will be two righthanders — Carl Erskine (14-6) for the Brooks and Vic Raschi (16-6) for the Yanks.

Ortmann Claimed By Texas Club

DALLAS, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Dallas Texans of the National Football League today claimed Quarterback Chuck Ortmann on waivers from the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Texans released Don Klosterman, rookie quarterback from Loyola of Los Angeles.

Ortmann, 23, is a 6-foot, 1-inch 190-pounder who played two years with the Steelers and starred at the University of Michigan.

Local Vet Active In Kennel Show

Dr. Foose Serves In Membership Group

Dr. C. N. Foose, Jr., local veteranarian, is an active member of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club, helping ready the club's first all-breed sanctioned show Sunday at Cumberland Fairgrounds.

A paramount requisite of any dog show is examination of all dogs entered in the show and Dr. Foose, membership committee worker and veteranarian for area cattle breeders, will be the examining vet for Sunday's match.

Persons interested in becoming members of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club are urged to contact Dr. Foose.

Sunday's kennel show will include judging of entries of all breeds of dogs; officials of the club noted.

Many well-known judges have been obtained to handle the first sanctioned show for the local club, and the entry list has been growing steadily in preparation for the Sunday finals.

Entries to date show such breeds as working dogs, hounds, sporting dogs and others will be viewed Sunday by the judges of the show. The public has been invited to attend.

Record Marlin Catch Claimed

TALARA, Peru, Oct. 1 (AP) — A world record catch of a 1,135-pound marlin with a rod was claimed today by Kip Farrington, New York author of several books on fishing.

The giant fish was 14 feet, eight inches long, and had a circumference of six feet at its widest part.

Odds On Yanks Drop After Loss

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Odds on the New York Yankees to win the World Series dropped to 6 to 5 today following the Brooklyn Dodgers' 4-2 victory in the opening game.

The Yanks had entered the series the choice at 8 to 5.

The American League champions also were made the 7 to 5 choice to win tomorrow's game with Vic Raschi opposing the Dodgers' Carl Erskine.

Top Big Ten Battle Is Due This Weekend

Wisconsin Meets Illinois Saturday

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 1 (AP) — They'll come close to deciding the Big Ten football championship here Saturday when the circuit's two top teams collide in the opening game.

The teams, of course, are Illinois and Wisconsin, rated No. 2 and 8, respectively, in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of the nation's collegiate grid teams.

Stadium Sold Out

In addition to the conference title, which Illinois will be defending, the Rose Bowl bid is up for grabs. The Illini, fifth straight Big Ten winner of the Pasadena New Year's classic last Jan. 1, can't go back under the terms of the agreement with the Pacific Coast conference. But Wisconsin is eligible, highly eligible, as fervent fans who bought out Camp Randall Stadium's 51,000 seats in the middle of the summer, are testifying loudly.

A brisk offensive battle seems in the cards, with both teams boasting potential scoring punch on the ground and through the air.

Hit By Graduation

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the 205-pound fullback who set a new Big Ten rushing record as a freshman last fall, is Wisconsin's wheel. On either side of him Coach Ivy Williamson has Veteran Halfbacks Harland Carl and Jerry Witt, each capable of the game-breaking long run any time he has the ball.

Williamson's defense against the passing of Illinois' Tommy O'Connell and the running of Pete Bachouros, Austin Duke and Bill Tate are the chief worries here now. The "Hard Rocks," Wisconsin's defensive unit which led the nation in yardage yielded last fall, was riddled by graduation. The current crew was nicked for 272 yards by Marquette and Williamson has promised some shuffling by Saturday.

Bucs Purchase Johnny Lindell

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates purchased Pitcher Johnny Lindell and Outfielder Carlos Bernier today from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

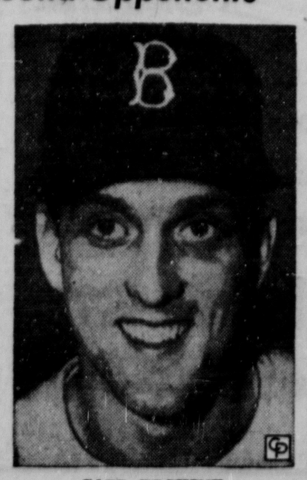

Lindell, former New York Yankee outfielder, won 24 and lost nine. The 36-year-old righthander also led the league in strikeouts with 190.

Bernier, a pint-sized Puerto Rican, batted .301 in 171 games and led the circuit in stolen bases with 65 and runs scored with 105. In five seasons of professional baseball, the 23-year-old youngster has pilfered 313 bases.

PLAYER OF WEEK — Dave Walton, hard-running fullback of Allegany High School's Campers has been named Player of the Week by the Knights of Columbus selection committee for his outstanding play in Coach Roy Lester's eleven's 13-7 victory over Beall High Friday at Fort Hill stadium. Walton, the first Allegany player selected this season, teamed with Dick Rank to make most of Allegany's running yardage, caught two passes that set up both Camper scores and tallied one touchdown himself on a line buck. Also noted for their fine play in the game were Rank, Bernie Beerman, Ken McGraw and Ralph Shaffer.

Men's Shuffle League Opens

Six Contests Are Scheduled Tonight

Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League opened its 1952-53 season last night when Frostburg American Legion turned back the Cumberland Goodfellowship Club, 3-0, at GFC home.

The match was moved up a day from the regular starting date of the 14-team circuit. The remaining 12 teams begin play tonight.

Wolford was high man for the Frostburg club with 17 points while Roby had 11 markers for Goodfellowship Club.

Today's opening schedule, according to Paul Stitcher, secretary of the circuit, finds Hann's Tavern at Alhambra Club, Cumberland Veterans of Foreign Wars at Amvets, Woodmen of the World at Hi-Dee Club, Stadium Inn of Frostburg at Purple Heart, Mt. Savage VFW at Frostburg Knights of Columbus, Fisher and Robinette at Golden Nugget in Frostburg.

The defending champions Amvets won the playoffs last season by turning back the Cumberland K of C who will not be represented this year.

CBS To Carry Orange Bowl Tilt

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System announced today it would carry the first nationwide telecast of the Orange Bowl football game from Miami next New Year's Day.

Only local telecasts of previous Orange Bowl games have been possible as Miami was not connected to TV network facilities until last July.

Ciemniecki Named Freshman Of Week

[By The Associated Press]

A 185-pound halfback who helped George Washington chop out a 39-0 victory over North Carolina State College last Saturday night gets the nod as Associated Press Southern Conference Freshman of the week.

He is Len Ciemniecki of Elizabeth, N. J. His exploits against the Wolfpack included two touchdowns and a ground gaining total of 153 yards in 12 carries.

Ciemniecki turned the tide for the Colonials when he sped 85 yards and crossed the goal line untouched by Wolfpack defenders. Later he scored again on a 13-yard dash through the line.

Reese Injures Leg In Play At Second

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Brooklyn Shortstop Pee Wee Reese said he suffered a bruised leg when the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle took him out on an attempted double play in the fourth inning of today's first World Series game.

"He slid past the bag and caught me on the thigh," Reese said.

"The leg seemed a bit stiff and I had to walk around underneath the stands between innings to keep from going lame."

Basilio To Fight

Amvets Lose To Hercules Tossers, 5-0

Gaffney Wild As Kegs Cop Opener

Frank Toler continued his sensational shutout hurling in post-season playoff contests for Hercules Powder Kegs softball team as the County League champs downed the Amvets, Rocking Chair League playoff titlists, yesterday 5-0 under the lights at Penn Avenue field. It marked the third straight calciming job for Toler who blanked the Potomac Valley Cubs twice in the final two County circuit contests.

Toler tossed a four hitter at the Amvets with only Red Ingram touching the righthander's slants for more than one safe blow.

Johnny Cox smashed a double and Jim Evans a three-bagger off Jim Gaffney, the Amvet hurler, who also tossed four-hit ball. However, Gaffney was wild, passing eight batsmen, and was the victim of some shoddy support by his teammates as the Kegs captured the first contest of the best-of-five series.

The two teams will meet again tonight at Penn Avenue with game time set for 6:30 p.m. while the third game will get underway at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, also at Penn Avenue. The score:

English Horse Wins 10 In Row

HAYDOCK PARK, England, Oct. 1 (AP) — Wilwyn, a contender in the Laurel Maryland International Horse Race Oct. 18, won his tenth straight victory today.

R. C. Boucher's four-year-old bay colt by Pink Flower out of Saracen, was the prohibitive 1 to 9 favorite in the three-horse field in a mile and a quarter race. His time was 2:15 1-5.

Jockey Manny Mercer, who will ride Wilwyn at the Maryland track, held up his mount until a furlong from the finishing line. Then he let him go and Wilwyn won easily by three lengths.

Owner Boucher and Mercer plan to fly to the United States on Oct. 16.

Mantle Asks Transfer Of Draft Exam Papers

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (INS)—The New York Yankees said today that Outfielder Mickey Mantle has asked to have his draft papers transferred from Oklahoma City to New York.

Mantle, 4-F with osteomyelitis in his left leg, reportedly has been ordered to undergo another physical examination — his third. The transfer of his records to New York undoubtedly would insure Mantle against missing any world series games to take the exam.

Giants Fullback On Injured List

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP) — Pat Knight, New York grid Giants' rookie fullback and defensive linebacker from Southern Methodist, will be out of action indefinitely, the club announced.

Play-By-Play Of 1952 World Series Opener

First Inning Yankees—Joe Black's first pitch to Bauer was low and outside for a ball. Bauer raised a soft liner to Pafko. Pafko took Rizzuto's fly in left-center. Mantle popped to Reese.

Second Inning Yankees—Berra's grounder skidded off Hodges' glove but Robinson, retrieved it and tossed to Black to get Berra for the out. Collins flied to Furillo. Noren flied to Reese.

No runs, no hits no errors, none left.

Second Inning Dodgers—Robinson walloped a home run into the lower field stands. It was the first hit of the game, Robinson's first World Series home run. Campanella singled. Campanella was cut down stealing, Berra to Martin, in a close play. Pafko bounced out. Hodges was an easy out, Reynolds to Collins.

One run, two hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Yankees—McDougald homered into the lower left field stands. The ball barely cleared the railing. Pafko, who made an unsuccessful leap for the ball, argued a fan reached over the railing to interfere, but Umpire Boggess ruled the ball had cleared the railing. Martin went down swinging. Reynolds also struck out. Bauer was called out on strikes.

Dr. Foose Serves In Membership Group

Dr. C. N. Foose, Jr., local veterinarian, is an active member of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club, helping ready the club's first all-breed sanctioned show Sunday at Cumberland Fairgrounds.

A paramount requisite of any dog show is examination of all dogs entered in the show and Dr. Foose, membership committee worker and veteranarian for area cattle breeders, will be the examining vet for Sunday's match.

Persons interested in becoming members of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club are urged to contact Dr. Foose.

Sunday's kennel show will include judging of entries of all breeds of dogs, officials of the club noted.

Many well-known judges have been obtained to handle the first sanctioned show for the local club, and the entry list has been growing steadily in preparation for the Sunday finals.

Entries to date show such breeds as working dogs, hounds, sporting dogs and others will be viewed Sunday by the judges of the show. The public has been invited to attend.

Record Marlin Catch Claimed

TALARA, Peru, Oct. 1 (AP) — A world record catch of a 1,135-pound marlin with a rod was claimed today by Kip Farrington, New York author of several books on fishing.

The giant fish was 14 feet, eight inches long, and had a circumference of six feet at its widest part.

Odds On Yanks Drop After Loss

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Odds on the New York Yankees to win the World Series dropped to 6 to 5 today following the Brooklyn Dodgers' 4-2 victory in the opening game.

The Yanks had entered the series the choice at 8 to 5.

Top Big Ten Battle Is Due This Weekend

Wisconsin Meets Illinois Saturday

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 1 (AP) — They'll come close to deciding the Big Ten football championship here Saturday when the circuit's two top teams collide in the opening game.

The teams, of course, are Illinois and Wisconsin, rated No. 2 and 8, respectively, in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of the nation's collegiate grid teams.

Stadium Sold Out

In addition to the conference title, which Illinois will be defending, the Rose Bowl bid is up for grabs. The Illini, fifth straight Big Ten winner of the Pasadena New Year's classic last Jan. 1, can't go back under the terms of the agreement with the Pacific Coast conference. But Wisconsin is eligible, highly eligible, as fervent fans who bought out Camp Randall Stadium's 51,000 seats in the middle of the summer, are testifying loudly.

A brisk offensive battle seems in the cards, with both teams boasting potential scoring punch on the ground and through the air.

Hit By Graduation

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the 205-pound fullback who set a new Big Ten rushing record as a freshman last fall, is Wisconsin's wheel. On either side of him Coach Ivy Williamson has Veteran Halfbacks Harland Carl and Jerry Witt, each capable of the game-breaking long run any time he has the ball.

Williamson's defense against the passing of Illinois' Tommy O'Connell and the running of Pete Bachouros, Austin Duke and Bill Tate are the chief worries here now. The "Hard Rocks," Wisconsin's defensive unit which led the nation in yardage yielded last fall, was riddled by graduation. The current crew was nicked for 272 yards by Marquette and Williamson has promised some shuffling by Saturday.

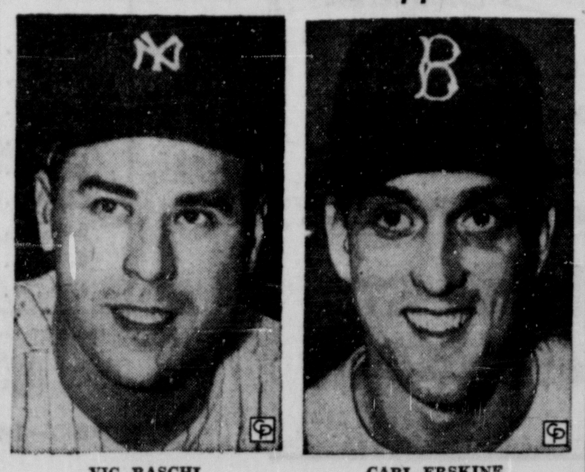

Bucs Purchase Johnny Lindell

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates purchased Pitcher Johnny Lindell and Outfielder Carlos Bernier today from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

Lindell, former New York Yankee outfielder, won 24 and lost nine. The 36-year-old righthander also led the league in strikeouts with 190.

Bernier, a pint-sized Puerto Rican, batted .301 in 171 games and led the circuit in stolen bases with 65 and runs scored with 105. In five seasons of professional baseball, the 23-year-old youngster has pilfered 313 bases.

PLAYER OF WEEK — Dave Walton, hard-running fullback of Allegany High School's Campers has been named Player of the Week by the Knights of Columbus selection committee for his outstanding play in Coach Roy Lester's eleven's 13-7 victory over Beall High Friday at Fort Hill stadium. Walton, the first Allegany player selected this season, teamed with Dick Rank to make most of Allegany's running yardage, caught two passes that set up both Camper scores and tallied one touchdown himself on a line buck. Also noted for their fine play in the game were Rank, Bernie Beerman, Ken McGraw and Ralph Shaffer.

Men's Shuffle League Opens

Six Contests Are Scheduled Tonight

Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League opened its 1952-53 season last night when Frostburg American Legion turned back the Cumberland Goodfellowship Club, 3-0, at GFC home.

The match was moved up a day from the regular starting date of the 14-team circuit. The remaining 12 teams begin play tonight.

Today's opening schedule, according to Paul Stitcher, secretary of the circuit, finds Hann's Tavern at Alhambra Club, Cumberland Veterans of Foreign Wars at Amvets, Woodmen of the World at Hi-Dee Club, Stadium Inn of Frostburg at Purple Heart, Mt. Savage VFW at Frostburg Knights of Columbus, Fisher and Robinette at Golden Nugget in Frostburg.

The defending champions Amvets won the playoffs last season by turning back the Cumberland K of C who will not be represented this year.

CBS To Carry Orange Bowl Tilt

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System announced today it would carry the first nationwide telecast of the Orange Bowl football game from Miami next New Year's Day.

Only local telecasts of previous Orange Bowl games have been possible as Miami was not connected to TV network facilities until last July.

Ciemniecki Named Freshman Of Week

[By The Associated Press]

A 185-pound halfback who helped George Washington chop out a 39-0 victory over North Carolina State College last Saturday night gets the nod as Associated Press Southern Conference Freshman of the week.

He is Len Ciemniecki of Elizabeth, N. J. His exploits against the Wolfpack included two touchdowns and a ground gaining total of 153 yards in 12 carries.

Ciemniecki turned the tide for the Colonials when he sped 85 yards and crossed the goal line untouched by Wolfpack defenders. Later he scored again on a 13-yard dash through the line.

Reese Injures Leg In Play At Second

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Brooklyn Shortstop Pee Wee Reese said he suffered a bruised leg when the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle took him out on an attempted double play in the fourth inning of today's first World Series game.

"He slid past the bag and caught me on the thigh," Reese said.

"The leg seemed a bit stiff and I had to walk around underneath the stands between innings to keep from going lame."

Basilio To Fight

Amvets Lose To Hercules Tossers, 5-0

Gaffney Wild As Kegs Cop Opener

Frank Toler continued his sensational shutout hurling in post-season playoff contests for Hercules Powder Kegs softball team as the County League champs downed the Amvets, Rocking Chair League playoff titlists, yesterday 5-0 under the lights at Penn Avenue field. It marked the third straight calciming job for Toler who blanked the Potomac Valley Cubs twice in the final two County circuit contests.

Toler tossed a four hitter at the Amvets with only Red Ingram touching the righthander's slants for more than one safe blow.

Johnny Cox smashed a double and Jim Evans a three-bagger off Jim Gaffney, the Amvet hurler, who also tossed four-hit ball. However, Gaffney was wild, passing eight batsmen, and was the victim of some shoddy support by his teammates as the Kegs captured the first contest of the best-of-five series.

The two teams will meet again tonight at Penn Avenue with game time set for 6:30 p.m. while the third game will get underway at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, also at Penn Avenue. The score:

HERCULES	011	102	0—5	4	2
AMVETS	000	000	0—0	4	2

The University right half ran 80 yards for the initial score in the first period then passed 10 yards to Left End Hardman for the third period touchdown and finally climaxed his performance with a 15-yard scoring sprint in the final stanza.

English Horse Wins 10 In Row

HAYDOCK PARK, England, Oct. 1 (AP) — Wilwyn, a contender in the Laurel Maryland International Horse Race Oct. 18, won his tenth straight victory today.

R. C. Boucher's four-year-old bay colt by Pink Flower out of Saracen, was the prohibitive 1 to 9 favorite in the three-horse field in a mile and a quarter race. His time was 2:15 1-5.

Jockey Manny Mercer, who will ride Wilwyn at the Maryland track, held up his mount until a furlong from the finishing line. Then he let him go and Wilwyn won easily by three lengths.

Owner Boucher and Mercer plan to fly to the United States on Oct. 16.

Mantle Asks Transfer Of Draft Exam Papers

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (INS)—The New York Yankees said today that Outfielder Mickey Mantle has asked to have his draft papers transferred from Oklahoma City to New York.

Mantle, 4-F with osteomyelitis in his left leg, reportedly has been ordered to undergo another physical examination — his third. The transfer of his records to New York undoubtedly would insure Mantle against missing any world series games to take the exam.

Giants Fullback On Injured List

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP) — Pat Knight, New York grid Giants' rookie fullback and defensive linebacker from Southern Methodist, will be out of action indefinitely, the club announced.

Play-By-Play Of 1952 World Series Opener

Second Inning Dodgers—Robinson walloped a home run into the lower field stands. It was the first hit of the game, Robinson's first World Series home run. Campanella singled. Campanella was cut down stealing, Berra to Martin, in a close play. Pafko bounced out. Hodges was an easy out, Reynolds to Collins.

Third Inning Yankees—McDougald homered into the lower left field stands. The ball barely cleared the railing. Pafko, who made an unsuccessful leap for the ball, argued a fan reached over the railing to interfere, but Umpire Boggess ruled the ball had cleared the railing. Martin went down swinging. Reynolds also struck out. Bauer was called out on strikes.

New Power Unit At Albright Supplying Tri-State Section

The cost of the three units will amount to $36,000,000 when completed. The No. 1 unit, same size as No. 2, will be finished early in January and will furnish power to the Potomac Edison Company. The transmission line from No. 1 unit will have as its local substation the new facilities constructed at Ridgeley across the Potomac from PE's river plant.

No. 3, the largest, will supply Monongahela Power Company in West Virginia. Having a capacity of 135,000 kilowatts, this plant will be completed in 1954.

Officials report that although not yet placed under contract, a fourth unit may ultimately be constructed at Albright. In the overall design of this plant allowance was made for this fourth unit having at least 135,000 kilowatts of generating capacity.

Murder Charge Dropped Against Grantsville Man

A murder charge against 29-year-old Harry Rugg, RD Grantsville, was dismissed Tuesday in Somerset County Criminal Court by Judge Thomas F. Lansberry on grounds that evidence was not sufficient to warrant homicide action.

The dismissal came on the second day of Rugg's trial in the death of Silas Plater, 60, Elk Lick Township, who died June 16 after a fight with the defendant and his father, Aaron Rugg.

Pleads Not Guilty

Rugg still faces charges of manslaughter and assault and battery.

School Levy Vote Planned On Friday

KEYSER — Mineral County residents will vote at a special bond levy election of the Board of Education Friday. The bond issue will not mean an increase in the tax levy voted three years ago, and which will expire this year unless voters renew it.

If voters fail to vote and the levy does not carry, school work will be badly curtailed, according to H. L. Idleman, superintendent of county schools.

At present, interest in the issue has not been aroused to any extent.

Idleman is desirous of having the voters understand that there will be no increase in taxes if the levy is passed, and that the program adopted by the school board three years ago, will be continued for the next three years, in which much is planned for the school improvement.

He also said there is no other way in which the progress of school work can be improved or maintained if the levy is voted down, as there is no other West Virginia law that will provide money for this purpose.

Ballots, ballot boxes and other paraphernalia for the election will be placed in schools, where the levy election will be conducted Friday.

Sen. Hare To Be Dedicatory Speaker Of Hyndman-Londonderry High School

HYNDMAN — The formal dedication of the recently constructed Hyndman-Londonderry High School will be held on Sunday beginning at 2 p. m.

The dedicatory speech will be delivered by Sen. Frederick P. Hare Jr., state senator from Somerset. Many other distinguished guests have been extended an invitation.

Master of ceremonies at the program, which approximately 1,000 persons are expected to attend, will be Dr. John A. Topper, well-known physician of here. He is a graduate of Hyndman High, class of 1929, Temple University Medical School, class of 1935, and a member of the Hyndman-Londonderry Joint School Board.

L. Huston Albright will officiate at the dedication of the half-million dollar structure. Albright is a chemical engineer at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in Cumberland and a graduate of Hyndman High School, class of 1933. He is also a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, class of 1937, and president of the Hyndman-Londonderry Joint School Board.

Rev. Frederick D. Oberkircher of the Reformed Church here and Rev. C. W. Raley of Ellerslie Evangelical Church will give the invocation and benediction. The high school band under direction of Arch J. Stewart, music director, will furnish the music.

After the Sunday afternoon program the public is invited to tour the new school. Teachers and students will be in each room to aid the public and to answer questions.

The structure is one of the first buildings completed in this section of Pennsylvania under the auspices of the State Public School Authority and is an ultra-modern building designed by the architectural firm of Hunter, Caldwell and Campbell of Altoona.

Barton Man Dies After Accident

Floyd Kyle, 29, a native of Barton, died early yesterday in Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, of injuries suffered last Friday when struck by a taxicab while enroute to work.

Hospital attaches said Kyle, son of Harrison Kyle of Barton, and the late Jane (Bradley) Kyle, sustained head injuries and a leg fracture. He had been in critical condition and unconscious since the accident occurred.

After graduating from Barton High School in 1941, Kyle served with the Army during World War II. He had been employed by Bethlehem Steel in Baltimore for about five years.

Survivors include his father and wife, the former Margaret Smith; a daughter, Helene Kyle, Baltimore; six brothers, Harrison B., William E. and Clarence F. Kyle, Barton; James Kyle, Eugene, Ore.; Richard Kyle, Youngstown, Ohio, and Pfc. Melvin Kyle, Camp Campbell, Ky., and six sisters, Mrs. Mary Robertson, Lonaconing; Mrs. Ella Spiker, Piedmont; Mrs. Leona Tringle, Lewistown, Pa.; Mrs. Dora Wilson, Westernport; Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Barton, and Mrs. Emily Inskeep of Louisiana.

The body will be taken to the Boal Funeral Home in Westernport.

New Power Unit At Albright Supplying Tri-State Section

The No. 2 unit supplying the 132,000-volt transmission line from Albright to Loch Lynn in Garrett County is a 75,000 kilowatt generating system.

The cost of the three units will amount to $36,000,000 when completed. The No. 1 unit, same size as No. 2, will be finished early in January and will furnish power to the Potomac Edison Company. The transmission line from No. 1 unit will have as its local substation the new facilities constructed at Ridgeley across the Potomac from PE's river plant.

No. 3, the largest, will supply Monongahela Power Company in West Virginia. Having a capacity of 135,000 kilowatts, this plant will be completed in 1954.

Officials report that although not yet placed under contract, a fourth unit may ultimately be constructed at Albright. In the overall design of this plant allowance was made for this fourth unit having at least 135,000 kilowatts of generating capacity.

A silkworm must make about 300,000 turns in spinning a single cocoon and the threads from just 40 cocoons would reach completely around the earth.

Murder Charge Dropped Against Grantsville Man

A murder charge against 29-year-old Harry Rugg, RD Grantsville, was dismissed Tuesday in Somerset County Criminal Court by Judge Thomas F. Lansberry on grounds that evidence was not sufficient to warrant homicide action.

The dismissal came on the second day of Rugg's trial in the death of Silas Plater, 60, Elk Lick Township, who died June 16 after a fight with the defendant and his father, Aaron Rugg.

Rugg went on trial Monday on charges of murder and involuntary manslaughter. Judge Lansberry refused a request to drop the other count.

Pleads Not Guilty

The defendant claims he struck Platter, in self defense after the partially blind pensioner attacked him with an axe. The altercation occurred in front of Platter's home at Coal Run near Meyersdale.

Rugg still faces charges of manslaughter and assault and battery.

School Levy Vote Planned On Friday

KEYSER — Mineral County residents will vote at a special bond levy election of the Board of Education Friday. The bond issue will not mean an increase in the tax levy voted three years ago, and which will expire this year unless voters renew it.

If voters fail to vote and the levy does not carry, school work will be badly curtailed, according to H. L. Idleman, superintendent of county schools.

At present, interest in the issue has not been aroused to any extent.

Idleman is desirous of having the voters understand that there will be no increase in taxes if the levy is passed, and that the program adopted by the school board three years ago, will be continued for the next three years, in which much is planned for the school improvement.

He also said there is no other way in which the progress of school work can be improved or maintained if the levy is voted down, as there is no other West Virginia law that will provide money for this purpose.

Ballots, ballot boxes and other paraphernalia for the election will be placed in schools, where the levy election will be conducted Friday.

Named Queen

Miss Patricia Shuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Shuck, of 29 Virginia Street, Keyser, was named yesterday to reign as queen at the annual Keyser High School homecoming today.

Miss Shuck, head cheerleader at Keyser, will be crowned during the half-time ceremonies of the Keyser-Ridgeley High football game.

Attendants selected were Miss Kathryn Oss and Miss Patricia Cale. They will also reign at the football game and at the homecoming dance scheduled today at 8 p. m. at the high school.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1 (INS)—I'm a great fan (as who isn't?) of those wonderfully talented TV personalities, Imogene Coca and Sid Caesar.

I was going to call them comedians, but there isn't anything they can't do—sing, dance, pantomine, and even drama.

So it's pleasant news to tell you that Imogene and Sid will head for Hollywood for a movie next summer. A deal is all but set with John Wayne and Bob Fellows, who already are busy lining up a suitable story.

Linda was so glamorous that she goes back to Columbia next week to play an Arabian princess in "Slaves of Babylon." This Sam Katzman production will co-star Richard Conte, with William Castle named as director.

Tyrone Power will be on the road with his poetry readings from "John Brown's Body," while Linda is emoting before the camera, so this new assignment for the lady works out very well for both of them.

Friday, Yul Brynner, who took Broadway by storm in "The King and I" arrives in Hollywood. He comes here to consult with Billy Wilder on his picture, "A New Kind of Lover," which goes before the cameras in the spring.

Brynner raised the romantic stock of bald headed men and oriental types. He goes back to New York for "The King and I" after a week in Hollywood, when a new actress will have the Gertrude Lawrence role. I almost said, will take Gertie's place—but no one can do that.

For the past year Marie McDonald has been a sick and unhappy girl who finally required the help of a psychiatrist. She had lost two expected babies, and her doctor held out no hope for future motherhood for her. It was because of this that Marie and her husband adopted two children, but even that did not seem to console her.

Now that Marie has learned she is going to have a baby of her own, she is a new woman and the happy girl she was some years ago.

Career wise, Barbara Stanwyck has never had so many offers in her whole life. Paul Shall, who is handling her, has done a terrific job. But the way he is setting up pictures for her I don't know when she's ever going to get a chance to rest.

There's "Nearer My God to Thee," "Circle of Fire," and now Paul has signed her for "Branded Woman" at MGM, with the possibility that she may sign for other movies on that lot.

While the World Series is on, Leo Durocher and Laraine Day, two dogs, and one of the children are driving back to Hollywood. They'll listen to the scores on the radio.

Charles Heston and his wife, Lydia Clarke, are giving up their Christmas at home to fly to Germany to entertain our servicemen.

Hollywood is casting more than an interested eye on the Spanish beauty, Rosita Diaz Jimeno, now starring in Mexican pictures. She's said to be a fine actress with looks to match her talent.

Mrs. Michael Rennie, who has been ill and in danger of losing her expected baby, is off the danger list now. Mike telephones her practically every other day from England where he's making a movie.

Dennis Morgan has a badly burned throat and he can thank his wife, who made his favorite chili con carne much too hot. Result is Dennis couldn't record his songs for three days.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

The Cheerful Receiver

Do you think Santa Claus sent Rudy the red-nosed reindeer ahead to match some ribbons? Or do you figure that in honor of the whirled series your fairy godmother took three swings with her magic wand?

That could be taken two ways in pill or powder form.

It could mean he is as clean as a tin roof in the rain. Or he is getting ready for another bite.

Install Traffic Light

Mason Upholds Home Parking

An illegal parking case yesterday in Police Court prompted Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason to go on record as opposing the tagging of motorists who park on meters in front of their homes.

Magistrate Mason's decision resulted in William F. LaNeve, 190 North Centre Street, receiving suspended sentences on 14 separate charges.

LaNeve, however, paid a total of $14 for other parking violations. He was represented at the hearing by Peter J. Carpenti, former magistrate.

Magistrate Mason pointed out that "a person shouldn't have to pay for parking in front of his own home." He indicated that similar cases will be dismissed by him in the future.

After the hearing, Carpenti himself posted $2 bond on two parking charges. He left court and returned within minutes with another tag. The last one cost him a nickel.

LaNeve, however, paid a total of $14 for other parking violations. He was represented at the hearing by Peter J. Carpenti, former magistrate.

Magistrate Mason pointed out that "a person shouldn't have to pay for parking in front of his own home." He indicated that similar cases will be dismissed by him in the future.

After the hearing, Carpenti himself posted $2 bond on two parking charges. He left court and returned within minutes with another tag. The last one cost him a nickel.

Police said Carpenti was tagged while arguing his client's case.

The average lion weighs about 500 pounds.

Although some forms of insects live near or in the sea at the shoreline, there are believed to be no truly marine insects.

Two-Way Turtleneck

OPEN: If zipper is down shirt has normal collar

SHUT: Closed, it is converted into a warm turtleneck

FASHION: Just in time for fall is the arrival of a new open-collared sport shirt that turns turtleneck in a second. The changeover is easy—just pull up the slide fastener. Recording and TV Star Jimmy Blaine (above) is trying out the convertible.

Dress Tips: To make your clothes better fitting, carry as little as possible in your pockets. Also saves strain on the buttons. . . . It's best to wear black shoes with a dark suit. If you own only brown shoes, however, put a good dark polish on one pair.

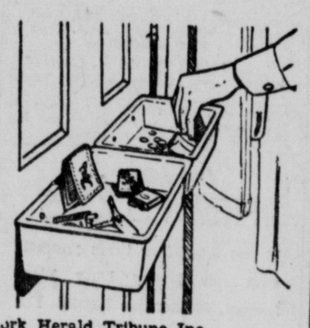

Household Hints: Ask the little woman to save you one of the little bottles with brushes attached to the cap. When it's empty, clean well, fill with water. It's good for moistening postage stamps and envelopes. . . . To keep your car's chrome fittings from getting weather-beaten, give them a good cleaning—and apply a thin coat of clear lacquer.

Ten-Second Interviews: Big corporation personnel man—"Men shouldn't wear sport clothes to places of business. When an applicant comes to me I want him to look as if he's after a job—not a golf match!" . . . Physical culture instructor—"I can eliminate five paunches out of every ten, merely by teaching correct posture and carriage."

Amateur Chef: Here's how to pick out a good steak: Look out for "marbling," tiny streaks of fat running through the meat. They're not good. The lean meat should be firm, velvety and fine-grained. Bone marrow should be red and porous. And the fat on the edges of the meat should be white, not yellowish.

Clothes Care: When you take out stored-away winter clothes, hang them up in a steamy bathroom. And be sure to brush them well while they're in the steam. . . . Remove spots from summer clothes before putting them away. It will be harder to get them out next spring. . . . Try to avoid leaving summer slacks over a cross-bar hanger for the winter. Use a pants hanger or store them flat. . . . Shine winter shoes before you wear them—not only for the sake of appearance, but for lubrication.

Clean Closet: Here's another tip for keeping your personal effects in order—this one for your closet door. Tack two bread pans on the door (see drawing at right) and put your wallet, watch and other pocket items in them when you hang up your clothes.

Pass the Cigars: This week to—Army Coach Earl H. Blaik, who stuck to his guns through the most dismal situation any football player ever faced. It is known that Blaik was offered fine jobs elsewhere, but he turned them all down to stay at West Point.

tive contributor: "The reason for the maximum ($500) was so that it can never be charged that anyone is contributing so much as to think he is entitled to special favors."

From beginning to end, the fund was handled on a businesslike basis with a plain warning that no obligation was being incurred by the senator. Every penny was accounted for and used for expenses connected with public service and not for personal enrichment of the California senator himself.

Governor Stevenson used funds left over from the campaign to pay travel expenses in making certain speeches. He also supplemented salaries of state officials so that his own administration would be successful and its prestige enhanced through the service rendered to the people of Illinois.

Though persistent efforts are being made by critics of both the governor and the senator to keep the issue alive, it looks as if all the essential facts have now been made available in both cases.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement, following the passing away of our beloved husband, father and brother, Willis T. Randall. Also those who sent flowers, the pallbearers, and the use of automobiles, to Rev. Gordon Hall and Rev. Afton O. Linger.
MRS. ALMEDA RANDALL & son. DONALD
MRS. R. B. WHITLOCK.
MRS. PAUL O'LEARY

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son and brother, Paul Smith, who was accidently killed October 2, 1951.
Just one year ago today
Since you so suddenly went away,
In our hearts there is a longing
And our eyes shed many tears,
Wishing just to hear your voice again,
And to know that you are near,
We know, dear Paul, you are happy
With God up there.
Sadly missed by
FATHER, MOTHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

In loving memory of dear son and brother, George E. Hartman, who was killed in Holland, October 1st, 1944.
Though your smiles are gone, dear George
And your hands we cannot touch,
We will always have the memory
Of the one we loved so much.
Til memory fades and life departs
You'll live forever in our hearts
Sadly missed by his parents
MR. & MRS. C. W. HARTMAN & FAMILY

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement, following the passing away of our beloved husband, father and brother, Willis T. Randall. Also those who sent flowers, the pallbearers, and the use of automobiles, to Rev. Gordon Hall and Rev. Afton O. Linger.
MRS. ALMEDA RANDALL & son, DONALD
MRS. R. B. WHITLOCK
MRS. PAUL O'LEARY

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son and brother, Paul Smith, who was accidently killed October 2, 1951.
Just one year ago today
Since you so suddenly went away,
In our hearts there is a longing
And our eyes shed many tears,
Wishing just to hear your voice again,
And to know that you are near.
Though our grief is hard to bear,
We know, dear Paul, you are happy
With God up there.
Sadly missed by
FATHER, MOTHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

In loving memory of dear son and brother, George E. Hartman, who was killed in Holland, October 1st, 1944.
Though your smiles are gone, dear George
And your hands we cannot touch,
We will always have the memory
Of the one we loved so much.
Til memory fades and life departs
You'll live forever in our hearts
Sadly missed by his parents
MR. & MRS. C. W. HARTMAN & FAMILY

DEATH - TAXES

Yes, they are a certainty. But there is still a third one. Call it wear, friction, deterioration or whatever you like—so goes steel, iron, all material things and of course, linoleum too. Perhaps your old linoleum already may be suffering the approach of that other certainty and has that dead appearance. You can postpone the ravishes of time and extend the life of old linoleum if you will brush on a coat of the new plastic type Glaxo coating. This gives a hi-lustre finish and adds years of wear. Apply it but once or twice each year and it does away with scrubbing and waxing. Available at Rosenbaum's.

DEATH - TAXES

Yes, they are a certainty. But there is still a third one. Call it wear, friction, deterioration or whatever you like—so goes steel, iron, all material things and of course, linoleum too. Perhaps your old linoleum already may be suffering the approach of that other certainty and has that dead appearance. You can postpone the ravishes of time and extend the life of old linoleum if you will brush on a coat of the new plastic type Glaxo coating. This gives a hi-lustre finish and adds years of wear. Apply it but once or twice each year and it does away with scrubbing and waxing. Available at Rosenbaum's.

Industry Queen Asks Homefolks To Exposition

Miss Sager Begins New Good Will Tours

Miss Lorraine Sager, Miss Western Maryland of 1952, called on her home folks yesterday to invite them to attend the Greater Cumberland Industrial Exposition October 16, 17 and 18.

In the first of a series of five "good neighbor" tours to communities in the immediate tri-state area, Miss Sager presented invitations to the people of Luke, Westernport, Piedmont, W. Va., Barton, Lonaconing and Midland.

Her first stop yesterday was at the Devon Club in Luke where Miss Sager extended invitations from Mayor Roy W. Eves of Cumberland to Charles S. Dayton, Allen L. Hill and Okey Michael, mayors respectively of Luke, Piedmont and Westernport. At Piedmont, the invitation was received by Councilman Joseph Maybury, acting as mayor in the absence from the city of Mayor Hill.

Others who took part in the presentation ceremony at the Devon Club were Milton Sively and Harry Dawson, members of the Luke city council, and John F. Rose, editor of the Piedmont Herald.

From Luke, Miss Sager went to Barton where an invitation was extended to Mayor Arthur P. Hoffa for the townspeople of Barton to attend the exposition.

Another stop was at Midland, where Miss Sager presented the invitation to Mayor Verl Ash for the townspeople of his community.

Because of the absence from Lonaconing of Mayor Virgil Alexander, Miss Sager gave his invitation to Anthony Saeli, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, with the request that Saeli extend the invitation to Alexander at his place of employment in Cumberland.

There was assurance from representatives present at each ceremony that their communities would take part in the Cumberland exposition.

Tomorrow Miss Sager will visit six Maryland and West Virginia communities in the nearby tri-state area. They are Oakland, Md., Thomas, Davis, Petersburg, Moorefield and Romney, W. Va.

Accompanying Miss Sager yesterday were James Whiteman from the exposition office, and A. T. Brust Jr., managing editor of The Cumberland News.

Local Employe, Plant Selected In Merit Award

Employ Handicapped Week Set Oct. 5-11

A local plant and a local employe have been selected by the state Governor's Committee to Promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped, to receive merit awards for interest and achievements in the Employ the Handicapped Program.

According to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office of the Department of Employment Security, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory has been selected for an award as "an employer who has shown unusual interest this year in employing handicapped workers in Western Maryland."

Report Submitted

Also Robert F. Hast, this city, employed at the Ballistics Lab., has been selected for "his achievements in overcoming his handicap during the last year."

Kenney and J. Leo Delaney, county supervisor of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, have been named co-chairman of Allegany County for "National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week," October 5-11.

The two local merit awards were selected from a report submitted to D. L. B. Fringer and R. C. Thompson, co-chairman of the Governor's Committee.

The report submitted pointed out that Hast has lived in Cumberland all his life, is a veteran of World War II and served from March 21 1942 to October 31, 1945 in the U. S. Army Infantry.

The 41-year-old local man was disabled as a result of an industrial accident on January 20, 1950. He was referred by the Employment Service on April 21, 1952, to the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory for a job as taxi driver.

He was hired and according to Management has been performing satisfactorily in that capacity ever since. Plant officials report that his effect on the morale of other employes is very good. He is interested in the athletic program of the plant and coached the Girls' Soft Ball Team through a successful season.

Letters Sent Out

The Allegany County committee in charge of the program here for "National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week" have sent out letters to area employers urging them to examine their operations and find a job for a handicapped person.

The letter said in part, "Many handicapped persons are more suitable for particular jobs than persons without physical impairment. Handicapped persons, properly placed, result in many tangible improvements:"

Kenney said employers seeking further information regarding handicapped employes, may contact the Department of Employment Security, 301 South Mechanic Street, phone 193; or contact the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, 111 Union Street, phone 4806.

Meanwhile Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin has proclaimed a statewide observance throughout Maryland.

"I urge that Mayors and other public officials, leaders in industry, labor, civic, agricultural and other organizations lend their assistance and cooperation in promoting public understanding of the possibilities latent in the vast labor reserve amonw the physically handicapped of our state," Gov. McKeldin said in his proclamation.

NORTH END TANK—Water pressure in the North End of Cumberland will be boosted when the above tank is installed late this year. City officials on Monday authorized the purchase of the tank, formerly owned by the U. S. Leather Company in Ridgway, Pa., under an $18,000 package bid of the Alto Salvage Company, Altoona, Pa. The price includes the 75,000 gallon tank, pumps, motors and automatic controls, plus installation on a foundation prepared by the city on Wills Mountain.

State May Study Heart Ailments In Industry

Police, Firemen List Legislative Program

The Legislative Council of the General Assembly will be asked to sponsor a study of heart ailments as an industrial accident disease in Maryland.

Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble promised members of the Cumberland Fire Department he will ask the Council to institute such a survey.

Capt. Vincent Wegman, representing the department, had pointed out that heart disease, which is virtually an occupational ailment for fire fighters, is not included among occupational diseases recognized by the State Industrial Accident Commission.

Will Present Plan

Charles M. See, chairman of the delegation, suggested that a formal request for a study of heart diseases in Maryland industry be forwarded to the Council, but Kimble volunteered to present the issue personally. He said, however, that the study should cover all workers and not only firemen.

This was one of a number of points in a legislative program suggested by the Fire Department at a meeting with the Allegany County Delegation this week.

Firemen also asked that retirement be possible after 25 years of service or at age 55 and mandatory at 60. The men were asked to secure an actuarial study, so details of the cost to the city would be available.

Since the firemen joined the State Retirement System last year, any change in the present status would require an amendment to the state pension law.

Want Boost Frozen

The firemen also asked 48 hours off after each shift change. At present, the men work five 10-hour day shifts, followed by 24 hours off. Firemen said the change would reduce hours on the job from about 300 a month to about 250.

They estimated four more men would have to be hired to work the extra hours.

On salary, the firemen asked that the 10 per cent wage boost granted by the city recently be made part of the basic salary scale and that the wages of the fire chief be the same as the police chief.

Pay checks every other Tuesday were also asked. Firemen said the only cost to the city would be the cost of making up two more payrolls.

Police Lists Wants

The Police Department submitted three requests through Joseph H. Stitcher, spokesman.

The major point in the program was the request for a cut in the work weeks from 48 to 40 hours.

Police reported the plan requires eight additional men, but said only six more will actually be needed since two additional patrolmen have been hired recently. Cost to the city was estimated as about $19,404.

The men pointed out that they agreed to forego the recent wage increase if their week were cut to the 40 hours worked by street, water and clerical workers.

Beall Hits Use Of U. S. Paid Propagandists

Gets Good Reception On Eastern Shore

Rep. Beall (R-Md.) charged yesterday that "federally paid propagandists are being used in the political campaigns."

The Republican nominee for Senator issued a statement saying Secretary of Agriculture Brannan "has assigned four of his top-salaried speech writers who are still on the government payroll to help the National Democrat Committee.

"Their salaries range from $8,000 to $10,000 a year. In addition, Mr. Brannan has assigned Clarence J. McCormick, his $17,500 a year undersecretary, to campaign for the Fair Deal. Mr. McCormick has already spoken in over 20 states."

Time To Call Halt

Beall declared "it is time to call a halt to federal employes being employed by the people and paid for out of their taxes from illegally participating in political affairs."

Beall continued his "walk-talk-shake hands" campaign Tuesday in a sweep through Caroline County, making visits at Denton, Preston, Ridgely, Greensboro, Marydel and Federalsburg.

Pleased with his reception, Beall was also heartened with the report from Marvin Smith, county GOP committee chairman, that of the last 113 to register, 52 said they are Republicans, 56 Democrats and six unaffiliated.

Considered Good Break

Caroline County went for Gov. Dewey in the 1948 presidential race by about 300 votes despite a Democratic registration lead of about 6,000 to 3,000.

Beall in referring to Mahoney's statement that he would not conduct "witch hunts" or "smear" any one if elected, said Mahoney is a "false, ill-informed" candidate who was trying to scare Marylanders into voting for him.

The TV program was developed, Beall said, "as if George P. Mahoney had discovered the evils of Communism, something which the vast majority of the public has been onto for years, but which his party leaders have given scant attention."

To Visit 30 Communities

His headquarters said he would spend three days in the tobacco growing country, visiting 30 communities.

The Mahoney trip ends Friday night in Prince Frederick at a Calvert County rally.

Mrs. Werner, Hyde To Speak At Jaycee Dinner Tomorrow

The two rival candidates for representative in Congress from the Sixth Maryland District will speak at the dinner meeting of the Junior Association of Congress tomorrow night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mrs. Stella Werner, Democrat, and DeWitt S. Hyde, Republican, will each be allotted 10 minutes to give the main points of their platforms.

Following talks by the candidates, both of Montgomery County, there will be a question and answer period. Five minutes will be extended for each.

The program has been arranged by Walter N. Hedrick, Jaycee program chairman, and both candidates have re-arranged their schedules to appear. The Jaycees also changed their meeting night from Wednesday to Friday.

The local organization will begin their monthly dinner at 6 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. so the meal will be over by the time Mrs. Werner and Hyde are to speak.

J. Kenneth Morgan, Jaycee president, said Hedrick has arranged for two local radio stations, WCUM and WDYK, to air the half-hour program from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Hedrick has also invited the two stations in Hagerstown and the one in Frederick to participate.

Morgan said Jaycee members may bring guests to the dinner meeting, but reservations must be made before tomorrow. Allegany County Republican and Democratic party workers will attend the program, and Morgan added others may also attend.

Moderator will be Robert Little Ebert, member of the Jaycees. Morgan said the event is part of the local service organization's "Get-Out-The-Vote" campaign headed by Homer Wise, committee chairman.

Tomorrow night's program will mark the second time this week that the two candidates have appeared together. Both were guests Tuesday evening on a television program, "Face To Face", sponsored as a public service by Station WMAR-TV in Baltimore.

Over 41,000 Now Registered For Coming General Election

With the signing up of 239 registrants yesterday at the office of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors the total eligible voters for the county passed the 41,000 mark.

Democrats led the way yesterday with a total of 121 registering as compared to 116 Republicans and two Independent. The total number of citizens now registered and eligible to vote next month is 41,163.

"All-out" efforts are being continued in Cumberland and Allegany County in the campaign to "Get-Out-The-Vote" in the November general election prior to the closing of the registration books in the Court House basement, Saturday.

The Junior Association of Commerce, Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America and spokesmen for the Democratic and Republican headquarters, are doing their part in urging residents of the county to exercise their voting privilege.

Highlighting the Jaycee's program will be talks tomorrow night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club by Mrs. Stella Werner, Democratic, and DeWitt S. Hyde, Republican, rival candidates for the post of representative in Congress from the Sixth Maryland District.

The meeting will get underway, according to Walter N. Hedrick, program chairman, at 7 p. m. The two candidates will each give a ten-minute talk on the main points of their platforms.

Homer Wise, chairman of the Jaycee "Get-Out-The Vote" drive, said last night a large number of registtrants went to the Court House after direction signs were painted along Baltimore Street to the registration office.

On Saturday, the Boy Scouts began, distribution of approximately 1,000 posters urging citizens to register and vote. Three days before the general election on November 4, the scouts will distribute 35,000 Liberty Bell cutout doorknob hangers, reminding residents of Cumberland and the county area to vote.

The registration office will be open tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. On Saturday the office will be open to register "last minute" persons from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Iron Workers Win Increase

The Construction Industry Stabilization Commission has approved a 15 cent an hour wage increase for members of Cumberland Iron Workers Local 568 (AFL).

The decision followed a joint petition submitted by eight general contractors of this area and the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers Local 568.

The new rates, retroactive to May 1 for signers of the petition and in September in the area, are:

George Clark, business agent of the local, said about 300 men will benefit from the wage boosts.

The local has jurisdiction in Cumberland and half way to Baltimore, Washington, Wheeling, Charleston, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

Youth Breaks Out Of Co. Infirmary In Getaway Try . .

A 16-year-old Virginia boy broke out of the juvenile detention quarters at the County Infirmary yesterday morning and tried to steal an attendant's car to make a getaway.

Authorities said the boy, who was being held for questioning, broke a crank handle from his cot, used it to pry loose a window screen, and wriggled through.

Then he tried to take an attendant's car, but was caught by the owner before he could get away. Police took him to County Jail for safekeeping.

Two weeks ago yesterday, on September 17, two teenage brothers who had been sentenced to a reformatory after admitting a series of car thefts tried to break out of the detention home, using the same method. They were unable, however, to pry open the window screen.

The September total was 31 below the figure of 306 for September, 1951. The peak month this year was June, when 347 licenses were issued. Next was August with 322. In the first of a series of five "good neighbor" tours to communities in the immediate tri-state area, Miss Sager presented invitations to the people of Luke, Westernport, Piedmont, W. Va., Barton, Lonaconing and Midland.

Her first stop yesterday was at the Devon Club in Luke where Miss Sager extended invitations from Mayor Roy W. Eves of Cumberland to Charles S. Dayton, Allen L. Hill and Okey Michael, mayors respectively of Luke, Piedmont and Westernport. At Piedmont, the invitation was received by Councilman Joseph Maybury, acting as mayor in the absence from the city of Mayor Hill.

Others who took part in the presentation ceremony at the Devon Club were Milton Sively and Harry Dawson, members of the Luke city council, and John F. Rose, editor of the Piedmont Herald.

From Luke, Miss Sager went to Barton where an invitation was extended to Mayor Arthur P. Hoffa for the townspeople of Barton to attend the exposition.

Another stop was at Midland, where Miss Sager presented the invitation to Mayor Verl Ash for the townspeople of his community.

Because of the absence from Lonaconing of Mayor Virgil Alexander, Miss Sager gave his invitation to Anthony Saeli, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, with the request that Saeli extend the invitation to Alexander at his place of employment in Cumberland.

There was assurance from representatives present at each ceremony that their communities would take part in the Cumberland exposition.

Tomorrow Miss Sager will visit six Maryland and West Virginia communities in the nearby tri-state area. They are Oakland, Md., Thomas, Davis, Petersburg, Moorefield and Romney, W. Va.

Local Employe, Plant Selected In Merit Award

Employ Handicapped Week Set Oct. 5-11

A local plant and a local employe have been selected by the state Governor's Committee to Promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped, to receive merit awards for interest and achievements in the Employ the Handicapped Program.

According to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office of the Department of Employment Security, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory has been selected for an award as "an employer who has shown unusual interest this year in employing handicapped workers in Western Maryland."

Report Submitted

Also Robert F. Hast, this city, employed at the Ballistics Lab., has been selected for "his achievements in overcoming his handicap during the last year."

Kenney and J. Leo Delaney, county supervisor of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, have been named co-chairman of Allegany County for "National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week," October 5-11.

The two local merit awards were selected from a report submitted to D. L. B. Fringer and R. C. Thompson, co-chairman of the Governor's Committee.

The report submitted pointed out that Hast has lived in Cumberland all his life, is a veteran of World War II and served from March 21 1942 to October 31, 1945 in the U. S. Army Infantry.

The 41-year-old local man was disabled as a result of an industrial accident on January 20, 1950. He was referred by the Employment Service on April 21, 1952, to the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory for a job as taxi driver.

He was hired and according to Management has been performing satisfactorily in that capacity ever since. Plant officials report that his effect on the morale of other employes is very good. He is interested in the athletic program of the plant and coached the Girls' Soft Ball Team through a successful season.

Letters Sent Out

The Allegany County committee in charge of the program here for "National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week" have sent out letters to area employers urging them to examine their operations and find a job for a handicapped person.

The letter said in part, "Many handicapped persons are more suitable for particular jobs than persons without physical impairment. Handicapped persons, properly placed, result in many tangible improvements:"

"Increased production, improved morale of all employes, reduced absenteeism and turnover and greater safety records."

Kenney said employers seeking further information regarding handicapped employes, may contact the Department of Employment Security, 301 South Mechanic Street, phone 193; or contact the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, 111 Union Street, phone 4806.

Meanwhile Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin has proclaimed a statewide observance throughout Maryland.

"I urge that Mayors and other public officials, leaders in industry, labor, civic, agricultural and other organizations lend their assistance and cooperation in promoting public understanding of the possibilities latent in the vast labor reserve amonw the physically handicapped of our state," Gov. McKeldin said in his proclamation.

State May Study Heart Ailments In Industry

Police, Firemen List Legislative Program

The Legislative Council of the General Assembly will be asked to sponsor a study of heart ailments as an industrial accident disease in Maryland.

Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble promised members of the Cumberland Fire Department he will ask the Council to institute such a survey.

Capt. Vincent Wegman, representing the department, had pointed out that heart disease, which is virtually an occupational ailment for fire fighters, is not included among occupational diseases recognized by the State Industrial Accident Commission.

Will Present Plan

Charles M. See, chairman of the delegation, suggested that a formal request for a study of heart diseases in Maryland industry be forwarded to the Council, but Kimble volunteered to present the issue personally. He said, however, that the study should cover all workers and not only firemen.

This was one of a number of points in a legislative program suggested by the Fire Department at a meeting with the Allegany County Delegation this week.

Firemen also asked that retirement be possible after 25 years of service or at age 55 and mandatory at 60. The men were asked to secure an actuarial study, so details of the cost to the city would be available.

Since the firemen joined the State Retirement System last year, any change in the present status would require an amendment to the state pension law.

Want Boost Frozen

The firemen also asked 48 hours off after each shift change. At present, the men work five 10-hour day shifts, followed by 24 hours off. Firemen said the change would reduce hours on the job from about 300 a month to about 250.

They estimated four more men would have to be hired to work the extra hours.

On salary, the firemen asked that the 10 per cent wage boost granted by the city recently be made part of the basic salary scale and that the wages of the fire chief be the same as the police chief.

Pay checks every other Tuesday were also asked. Firemen said the only cost to the city would be the cost of making up two more payrolls.

Police Lists Wants

The Police Department submitted three requests through Joseph H. Stitcher, spokesman.

The first request was for the freezing into the base pay the recent 10 per cent wage increase granted by the city.

Pay checks every other Thursday was the second request.

The major point in the program was the request for a cut in the work weeks from 48 to 40 hours.

Police reported the plan requires eight additional men, but said only six more will actually be needed since two additional patrolmen have been hired recently. Cost to the city was estimated as about $19,404.

The men pointed out that they agreed to forego the recent wage increase if their week were cut to the 40 hours worked by street, water and clerical workers.

Beall Hits Use Of U. S. Paid Propagandists

Gets Good Reception On Eastern Shore

Rep. Beall (R-Md.) charged yesterday that "federally paid propagandists are being used in the political campaigns."

The Republican nominee for Senator issued a statement saying Secretary of Agriculture Brannan "has assigned four of his top-salaried speech writers who are still on the government payroll to help the National Democrat Committee.

"Their salaries range from $8,000 to $10,000 a year. In addition, Mr. Brannan has assigned Clarence J. McCormick, his $17,500 a year undersecretary, to campaign for the Fair Deal. Mr. McCormick has already spoken in over 20 states."

Time To Call Halt

Beall declared "it is time to call a halt to federal employes being employed by the people and paid for out of their taxes from illegally participating in political affairs."

Beall continued his "walk-talk-shake hands" campaign Tuesday in a sweep through Caroline County, making visits at Denton, Preston, Ridgely, Greensboro, Marydel and Federalsburg.

Pleased with his reception, Beall was also heartened with the report from Marvin Smith, county GOP committee chairman, that of the last 113 to register, 52 said they are Republicans, 56 Democrats and six unaffiliated.

Considered Good Break

"Brother, any time you get anything like an even break in registrations in Caroline County, that's something," he told Beall.

Caroline County went for Gov. Dewey in the 1948 presidential race by about 300 votes despite a Democratic registration lead of about 6,000 to 3,000.

Beall in referring to Mahoney's statement that he would not conduct "witch hunts" or "smear" any one if elected, said Mahoney is a "false, ill-informed" candidate who was trying to scare Marylanders into voting for him.

The TV program was developed, Beall said, "as if George P. Mahoney had discovered the evils of Communism, something which the vast majority of the public has been onto for years, but which his party leaders have given scant attention."

To Visit 30 Communities

His headquarters said he would spend three days in the tobacco growing country, visiting 30 communities.

The Mahoney trip ends Friday night in Prince Frederick at a Calvert County rally.

Mrs. Werner, Hyde To Speak At Jaycee Dinner Tomorrow

The two rival candidates for representative in Congress from the Sixth Maryland District will speak at the dinner meeting of the Junior Association of Congress tomorrow night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mrs. Stella Werner, Democrat, and DeWitt S. Hyde, Republican, will each be allotted 10 minutes to give the main points of their platforms.

Following talks by the candidates, both of Montgomery County, there will be a question and answer period. Five minutes will be extended for each.

The program has been arranged by Walter N. Hedrick, Jaycee program chairman, and both candidates have re-arranged their schedules to appear. The Jaycees also changed their meeting night from Wednesday to Friday.

The local organization will begin their monthly dinner at 6 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. so the meal will be over by the time Mrs. Werner and Hyde are to speak.

J. Kenneth Morgan, Jaycee president, said Hedrick has arranged for two local radio stations, WCUM and WDYK, to air the half-hour program from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Hedrick has also invited the two stations in Hagerstown and the one in Frederick to participate.

Morgan said Jaycee members may bring guests to the dinner meeting, but reservations must be made before tomorrow. Allegany County Republican and Democratic party workers will attend the program, and Morgan added others may also attend.

Moderator will be Robert Little Ebert, member of the Jaycees. Morgan said the event is part of the local service organization's "Get-Out-The-Vote" campaign headed by Homer Wise, committee chairman.

Tomorrow night's program will mark the second time this week that the two candidates have appeared together. Both were guests Tuesday evening on a television program, "Face To Face", sponsored as a public service by Station WMAR-TV in Baltimore.

Park Directors Coming To Md.

State Park directors from the Northeast and South—all the way from Maine to Louisiana—will attend a four-day annual meeting beginning October 6 at Gambrill State Park in Frederick County, State Forester H. C. Buckingham disclosed yesterday on a visit here.

Buckingham is spending several days in Allegany and Garrett Counties studying the work that has been undertaken under direction of District Forester William H. Johnson to curb the spread of "Oak Wilt" in this area.

Observing that "Oak Wilt" has been found in Washington County as well as Allegany and Garrett, where it was first discovered, Buckingham stated that it now is reported in Carroll County but this has not yet been confirmed. Buckingham wants to find out just how effective control measures are in preventing spread of "Oak Wilt."

Concerning the meeting next week at Gambrill State Park, Buckingham said he would not be able to attend. However, District Forester Johnson will be on hand to prepare a barbecue for the delegates one day during the meetings.

Buckingham will be in Philadelphia next week where plans will be formulated for a study to determine whether timber is growing more plentiful. The U. S. Forest Service will direct the survey.
